JAMES ATKINS

*A man of words and also deeds
Is like a garden full of seeds.*

PEARL BAIRD

*A diller, a dollar, a ten o'clock scholar
What makes you come so soon?
You used to come at ten o'clock
And now you come at noon.*

CHRISTOPHER BOLAND

*If quietness will make our life
Successful in every way,
Chris will have a loving wife
And always get his "say."*

SYLVIA BOTSFORD

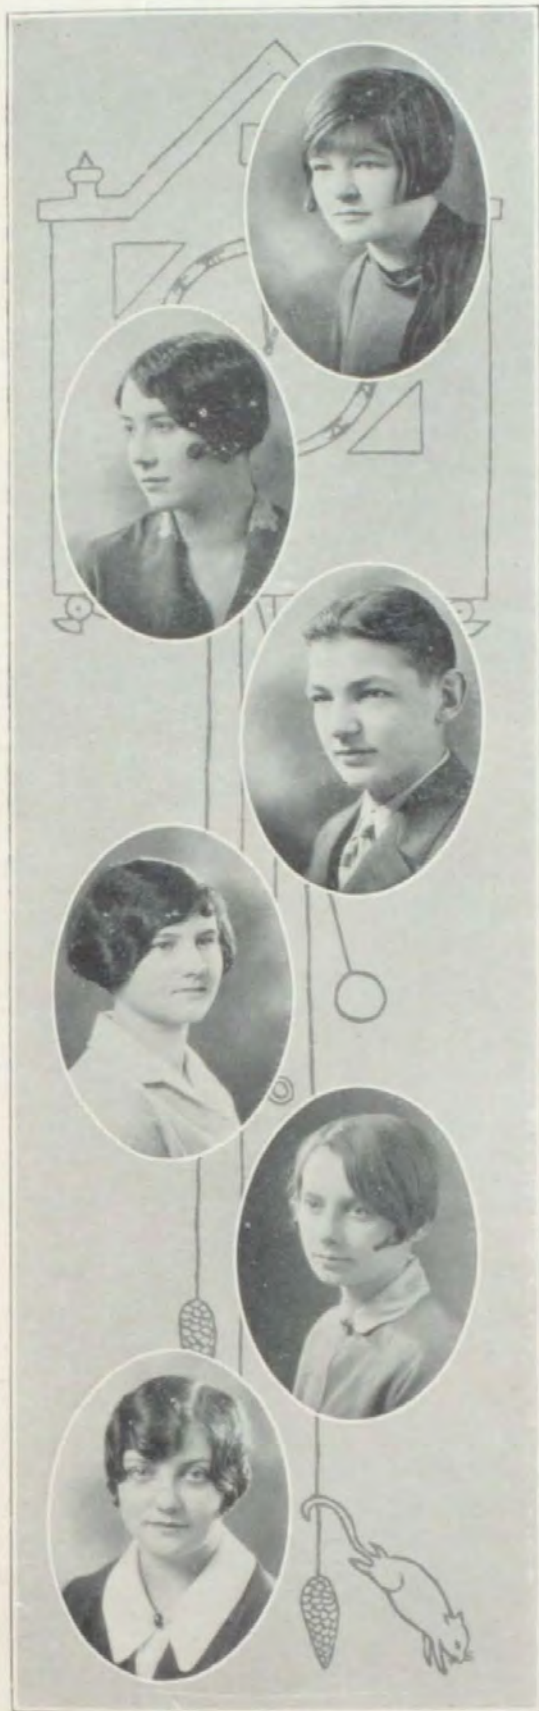

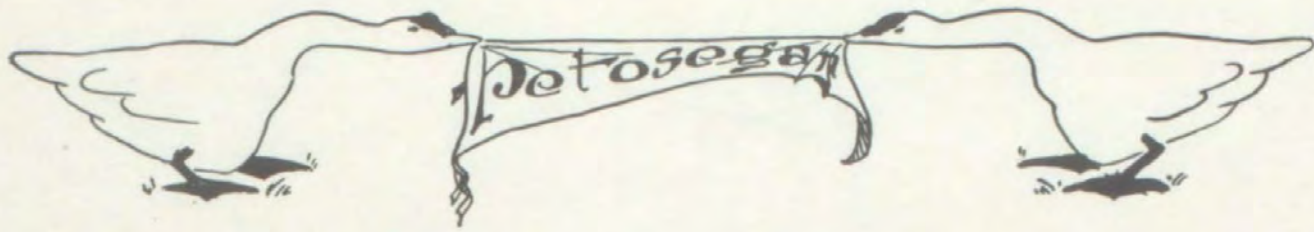

*I take things easy, good or bad,
Why should I rush through life like mad?*

BURTON COLE

*Burt Cole was a merry old soul,
And a merry old soul was he.
He never showed up at the call of the roll
But now he is through, you see.*

JACOB CONKLIN

*Jakey, come give me thy fiddle,
If ever thou mean to thrive.
Nay, I'll not give my fiddle
To any man alive.*

HORTENSE CONROY

*Though her name is short
And her stature, too,
Without this sweet lassie
We could not do.*

DELILA CHAMBERLAIN

*If all the world was water
And all the water ink,
Delila would be an author
And perhaps be famous, we think.*

ALFRED DUDEK

*Al neither laughs nor scowls
But carries his face
With a very good grace
And wins friends with his smiles*

MILDRED DASHNER

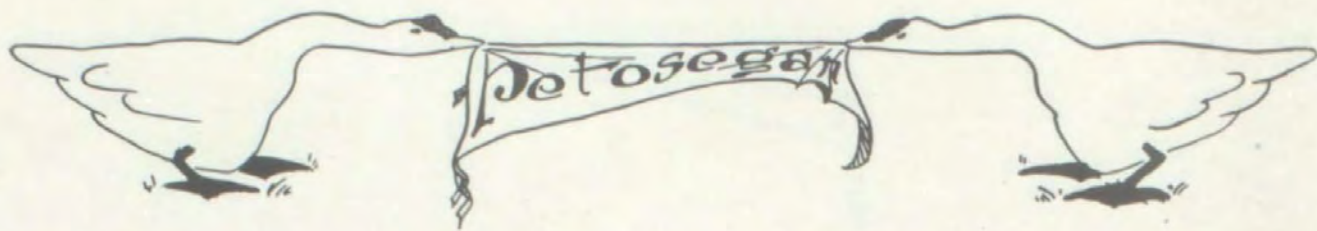

*When I was a little girl
I washed my mommy's dishes,
Now I am a great girl
I do my teacher's wishes.*

MILDRED EPPLER

*The rule of three perplexes me,
And practice drives me mad.
Multiplication is vexation,
Division is just as bad.*

ALTA FAY

*Alta May Cecila Fay
Was a pretty little lass,
She ran to school every day
But she was never late to class.*

LILLIAN FEATHER

*Alta and Lil went up the hill
To find a boy or two,
Lil came down—said those she found
Would really never do.*

LYLE FAUNCE

*Little Lyle Faunce
Sings for his supper
What shall he sing for?
White bread and butter.*

EDWARD FOLEY

*Ted Foley has grown so fine
He won't get up to come on time,
He lies in bed till eight or nine;
Surely he does take his time.*

RAYMOND FOLEY

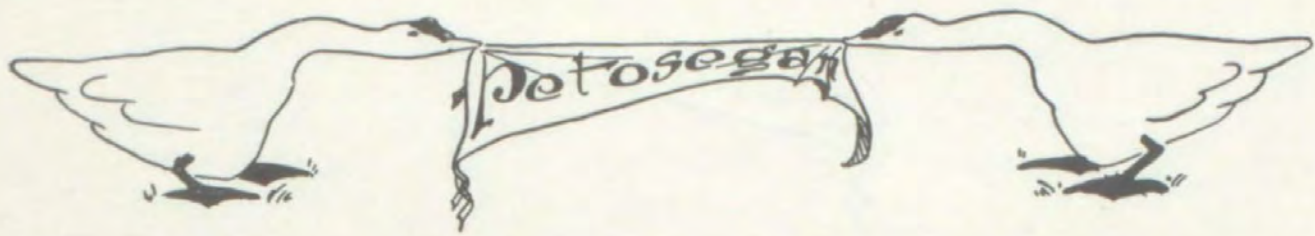

*Hickory, dickory,
Sockory, down,
How many miles to Charlevoix town?*

CHARLES GILMAN

*Charley, Charley stole the barley
Out of a baker shop;
The baker came out and gave him a clout
And made poor Charley hop.*

GEORGE GEMMILL

*Handy Spandy,
Georgie Dandy,
Worked at Skinny's
And sold us candy.*

DON HART

*Don Hart came from France
Where he learned the latest dance,
Now he has a scarlet dog
And the whole town is agog.*

CARL HYATT

Not graduated.

EDNA HOFFMAN

*What is your fortune,
My pretty maid?
My music is my fortune,
Sir, she said.*

FRED HOLMBERG

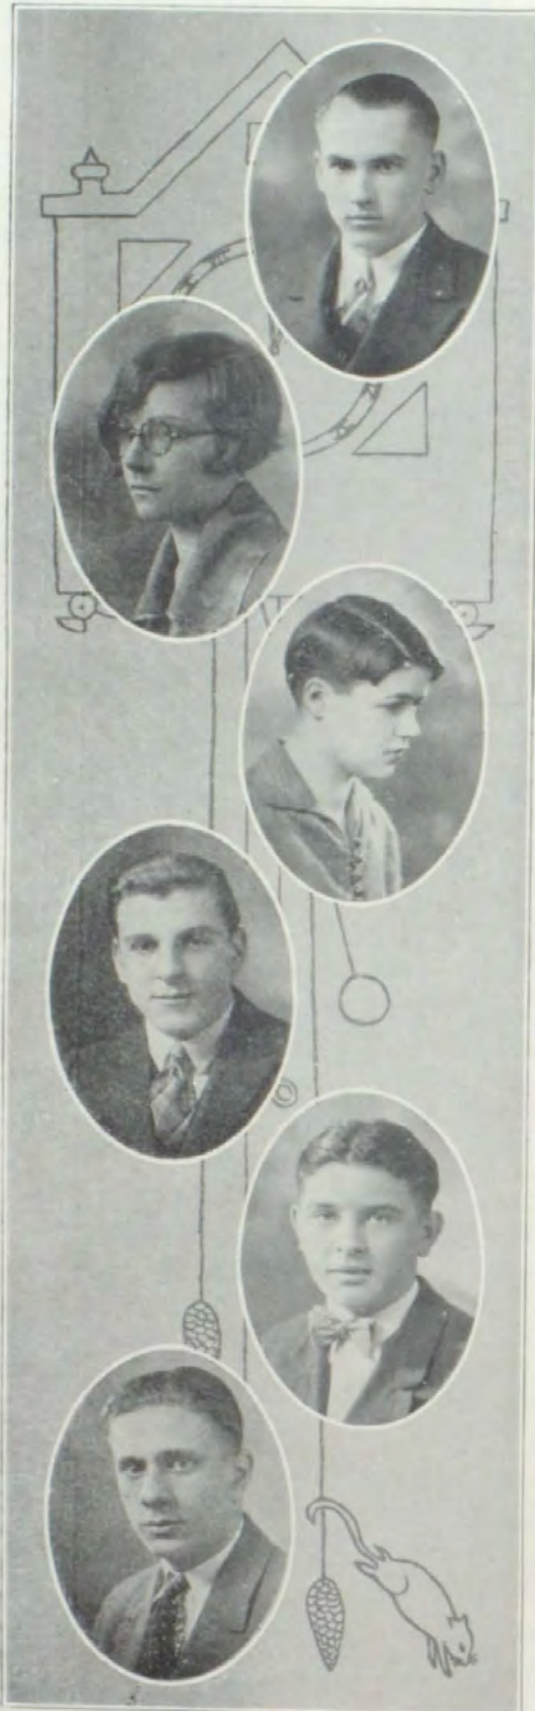

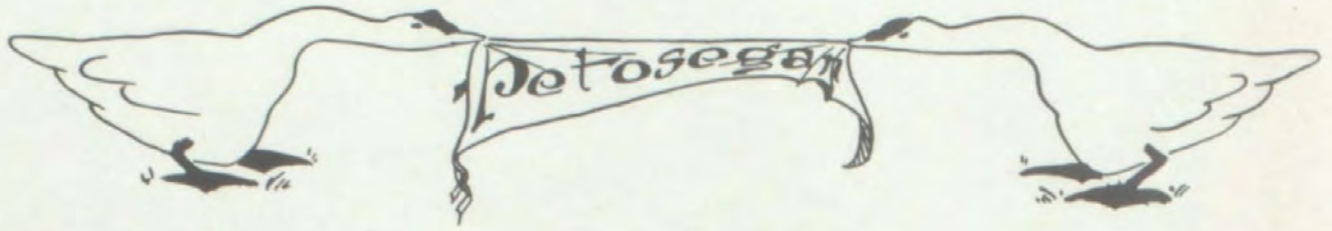

*When little Freddie was called to bed
He always said his prayers.
He kissed his mamma—then papa
And straight away went upstairs.*

MARIAN JACKIMOWICZ

*My maid Mary
She minds the dairy
While I go a-howing
And a-mowing each morn.*

JACK JOHN

*Little Jack John sat at his desk
Studying hard and not minding the rest.
He made up his mind to get his lesson
And studied so hard it was really distressin'.*

VICTOR KNOWLTON

*When "Vic" is a very good boy
He shall have cakes and custard;
When he does nothing but cry
He shall have only some mustard.*

WANDA LEAR

*Sing a song of Wanda,
Clever, witty and wise;
Surely this nice lassie
Our whole class does prize.*

HELEN LAWRENCE

*A rock could not be firmer
When she battles for the right,
And still we hear her murmur
I'm not mad enough to fight.*

RAYMOND LAKE

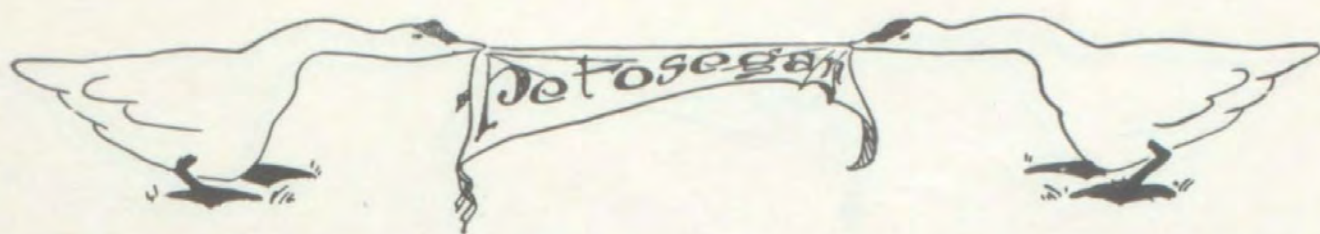

*Rub-a-dub-dub,
Three men in a tub,
And this was one of the three.*

RAYMOND LEWIS

*Tweedle-dum and Tweedle-dee
Resolved to have a battle.
Along came good-natured Ray
And they quite forgot their quarrel.*

JOHN LEROY

*Johnnie's clocked stockings ran off with his shoes,
His necktie ran off with his collar,
The culprits were found, said the Petoskey
News,
And each one fined half a dollar.*

OTIS LOVE

*Otie, Otie, you sleepy head,
Should come to school but you lie abed.
Makes the teacher think he studies deep
When he is really sound asleep.*

LEWIS MILLER

*Louie is nimble,
Louie is spry.
That is why Louie is on
Our basket-ball five.*

WALTER McMASTER

*Old Walt McMaster is fond of books
And loved by his teachers and master.*

WILLIAM McCUNE

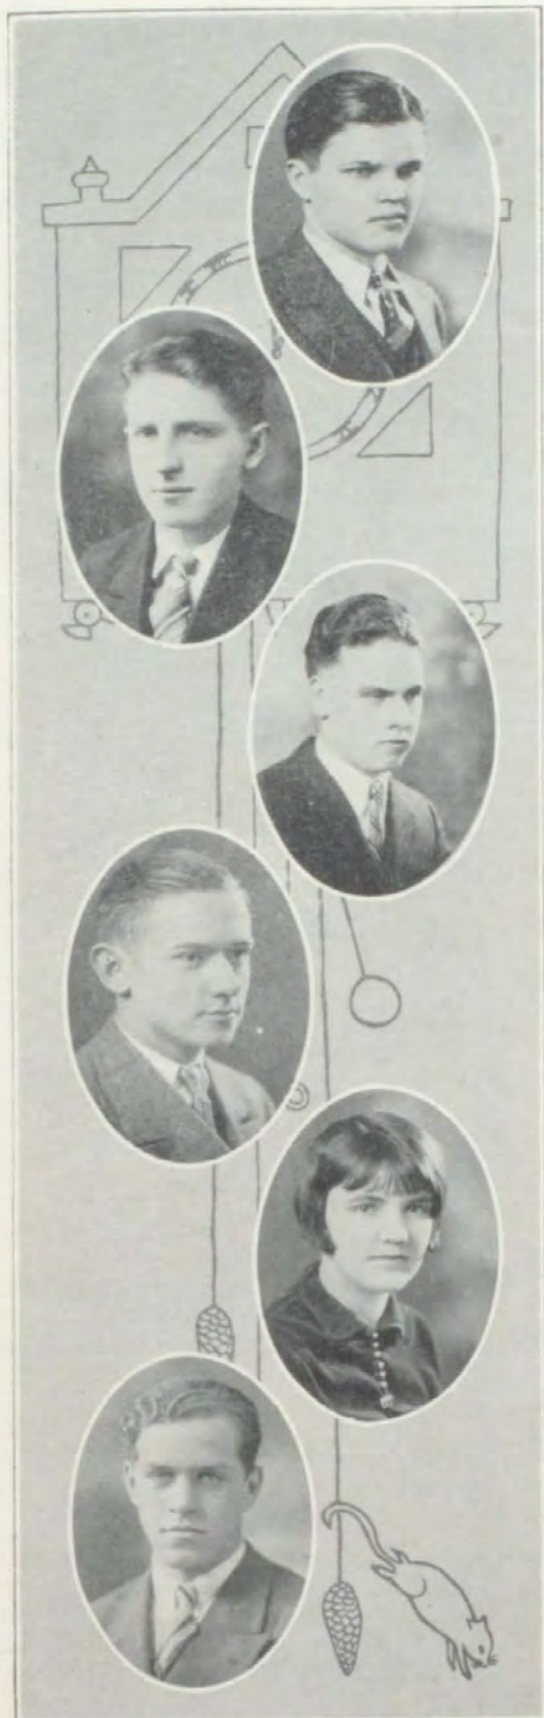

*President of our class is Bill,
And very well his place he fills.*

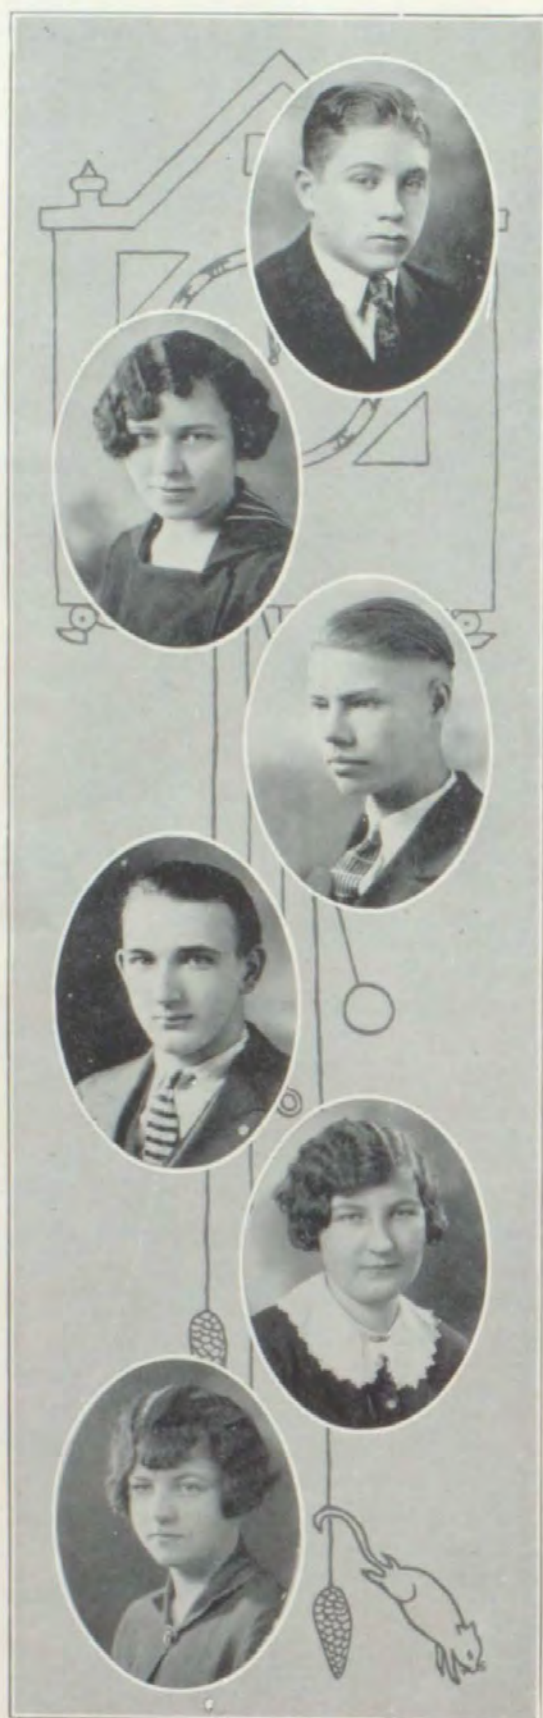

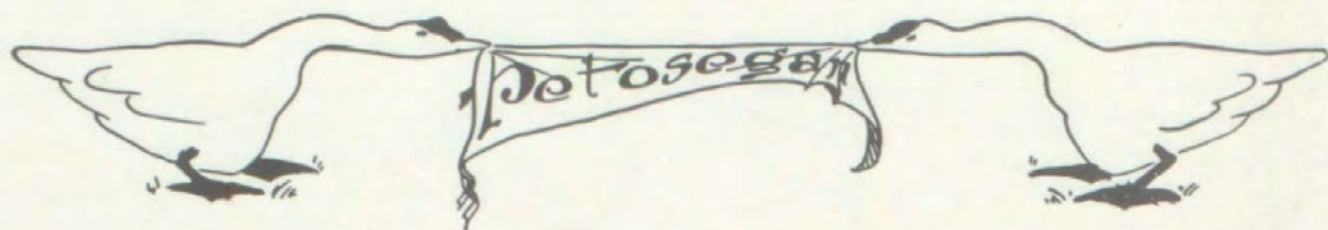

MARGARET McCONNELL

*"Spec" wins the medals,
"Spec" wins the points,
But it never swells her head
It only swells her joints.*

ROLLAND NORTH

*Play, play every day,
Rolly throws his time away.
He must work and he must read,
And then he'll be a man indeed.*

KENNETH NORTH

*Kenny was a little man,
He played a bass trombone.
Every time the band played
You'd always hear it moan.*

HELEN NILES

*With a merry sing-song,
Happy, gay and free,
And a merry d'ng-dong,
Happy let us be.*

LESTER PAGEL

*Cock crows in the morning
And tells us to rise,
And he who lies late
Will never be wise.*

TED PAGEL

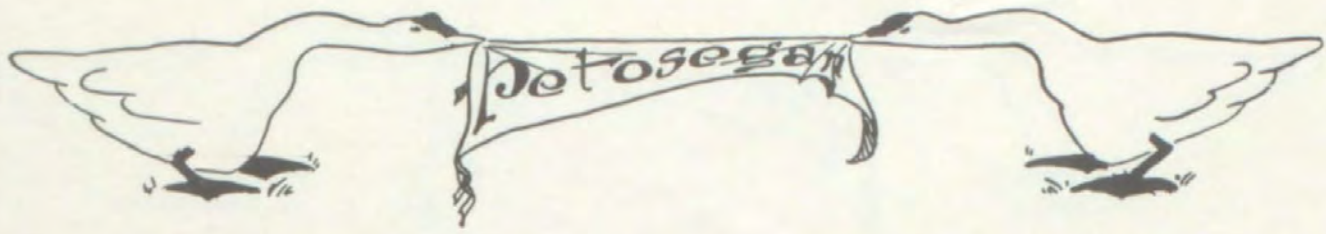

Not graduated.

NILA OTTO

*What are you doing, Miss Nila Otto.
Said she, "I always do just as I ought to."*

MARIAN RICHARDSON

*Mary, Mary, quite contrary,
How do you studies go?
Bookkeeping here and typing there
And all my lessons right in a row.*

LEORA RILEY

*Leora is a little girl,
She has a little fiddle,
And when the moon is bright
You can hear it twiddle, twiddle.*

HELEN RACIGNOL

*What are little girls made of?
Sugar and spice and all that's nice,
That's what little girls are made of.*

NAOMI TRUMAN

*See saw Margery Daw,
Naomi shall have a new master.
She shall have but a penny a day
Because she can't work any faster.*

ALBERT SWEET

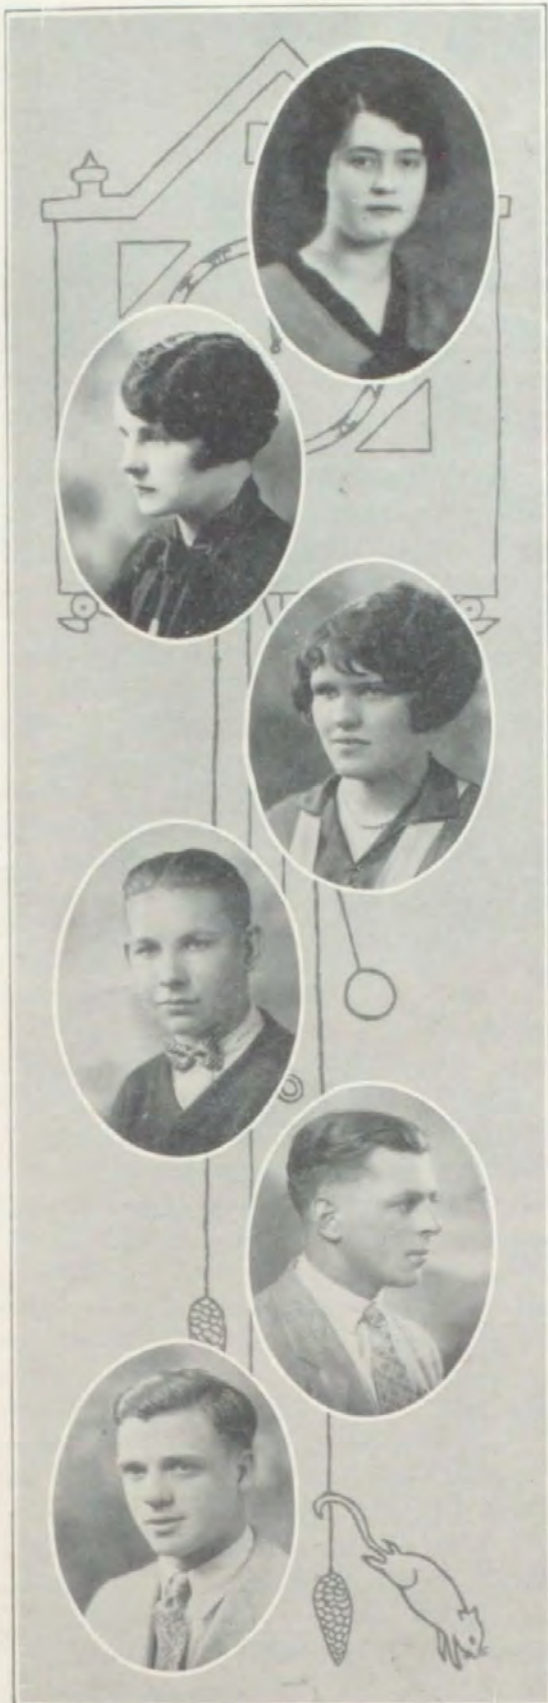

*Little Al Sweet fell fast asleep
And dreamed he a concert was singing,
But when he awoke he found it a joke,
At him the neighbors their shoes were flinging.*

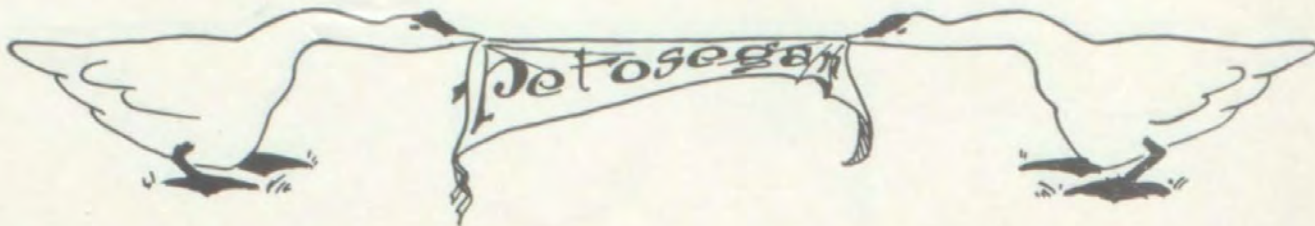

LEROY SAUNDERS

*Leroy is studious
With A's to his lot.
Yea—Leroy doesn't seem to be
What he is not.*

CARLTON THOMAS

*Carty Thomas "long and lanky"
But you never find him cranky.*

JEAN TRAVIS

*To be calm is not her bent,
Instead she's very gay.
We'll prophesy some wealthy gent
Will take her far away.*

NORMAN WELLS

*Hickory, dickory, dock,
Norm hadn't noticed the clock,
The clock struck two and Ruth's dad's shoe
Kicked him half way down the block.*

MARCIA WINSOR

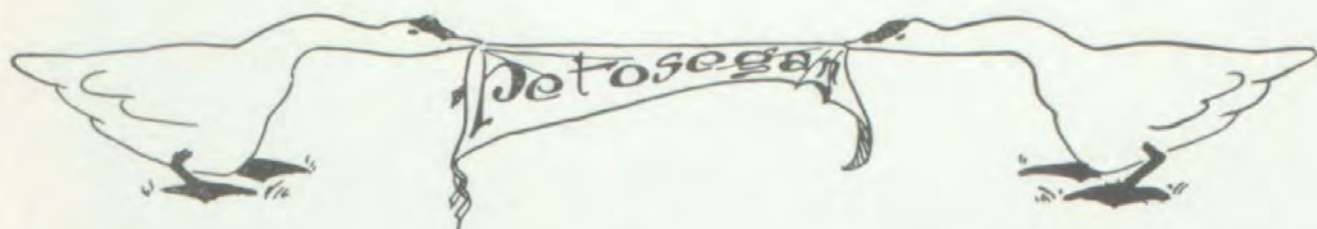

*The speed coy stopped our Marcia.
"You were making 70 I have a hunch."
Just write that down, said Marcia,
I'll show it to the bunch.*

MAXINE ZIMMERMAN

*Maxine was a little girl
Who wouldn't say her prayers.
Then her mother spanked her
And sent her away upstairs.*

EVELYN ZINK

*Little Evelyn has lost her shoe,
Give her another so she can go home in two.*

Class Prophecy

March 15, 1940
Petoskey, Mich.

Dear Old Classmates of 27:

Last night I was sitting before my fireplace looking through the Annual of 27 at dear old P. H. S. As I studied each page I thought of the good times we had had then, happy, carefree, wasn't it great? I was wondering where the fifty-two other members of our class were and what they were doing when I heard a sound in the room. I looked, and whom do you think I saw? Old Mother Goose! I was most surprised as you might know, but my wonderment knew no bounds when she spoke to me saying:

"Well, I see that you recognize me. The class of 27 at P. H. S. is under my special care, so if you like you may go with me and see all of your old classmates. Once a year I look every one of them up; I sorta watch over them, you know, though some of them need my care more than others."

I was very much amazed and also felt very much honored and jumped at the chance to see my old friends again.

Mother Goose had her Gander just outside the window. Although it had been snowing outside, for you know March is pretty cold up here in Petoskey, Mother Goose told me that a coat would be unnecessary because the Gander would keep us warm. We mounted the huge bird and before I knew it we had sailed up into the sky with an easy gliding motion that was most delightful. As we moved along she told me that perhaps I would not know some of those whom we would see but if I could not recognize them she would tell me who they were.

The first city I visited was New York. I entered a very large theatre in which a famous company was playing. As the leading lady came out on the stage Mother Goose turned to me and said, "Do you recognize that girl?"

I answered in rather a doubtful tone, "It looks like someone I should know. Why, I do believe it is my old friend Alta Fay."

"You were right, it is she," said Mother Goose.

I left the theatre and then entered the WEA F broadcasting studio. There I immediately recognized the man in front of the microphone as John LeRoy. I asked my companion what he was and she replied, "He is a brain specialist." After John got through speaking, the announcer spoke two names which I remembered—Miss Leora Riley and Mr. Lyle Faunce, two noted singers. Then I entered a meeting of the New York city council and who do you suppose was at the head of it all—none other than our former class president, Bill McCune, but now Mayor McCune of New York City. At a desk near sat his secretary; and when she turned around I recognized Sylvia Botsford. Passing down Fifth Avenue, I saw a sign in front of the most exclusive shop there reading Madame Marcia, Modiste. Looking inside, I saw our old friend Marcia E. Winsor, owner of the establishment. I found Jean Travis one of the fascinating girls in Ziegfeld Follies. DeLila Chamberlain is a prosperous owner of a beauty shop. Ted Foley, our business manager, has become a financial king in Wall street. Down at Brooklyn I found Naomi Truman, a physical education teacher. In the public schools at Boston, I recognized the head of that famous Boston library to be none other than Nila Otto, our former P. H. S.

librarian. Strolling along Harvard Campus I saw Fred Holmberg, head coach at the university, talking with his worthy assistant, Rolly North.

Next we hopped over to Washington. Entering the Supreme Court room, I saw Burt Cole on the bench, a most worthy looking judge. Looking farther I saw Windy North breezily taking notes on the trial—a court reporter. Moving down to Richmond, Virginia, I heard the famous band organized by Jim Atkins and Vic Knowlton, former classmates. At Palm Beach, Norm Wells had just won the American golf championship. Mildred Eppler has now become the wife of a wealthy molasses manufacturer in New Orleans. Going up the Mississippi to St. Louis, I discovered that Maxine Zimmerman was a public speaking teacher in one of the high schools of that city.

Chicago claims several members of the class of 27. Helen Lawrence is a famous man-impersonator on the stage, while Helen Racignol is in the box office of the great Chicago theatre. One of the greatest social welfare workers Chicago has ever known is Evelyn Zink. The University of Chicago boasts Don Hart as a great sociological expert. The light weight pugilistic champion in Chicago is none other than Chuck Gilman. In Kansas City, I found Walt McMaster, chief tester of mattresses in a factory in that city. After a long windy journey to Texas I encountered Ray Lake, a prosperous cattle ranch owner. Slipping over the Mexican border whom do you think I saw? Ray Lewis as a member of the U. S. secret service. We then went north again and in a small town in Montana, I met a travelling circus in the retinue of which was Hortense Conroy, a most remarkable snake charmer, and Pearl Baird, a daring trapeze performer, also Ted Pagel, tall man of the circus. Over in San Francisco, I met the owner of the first trans-continental bus line, our genial fellow student Jake Conklin. With him was Carty Thomas, an aviator in the U. S. aviation corps. Lil Feather and Spec McConnell were residents of Los Angeles, the former the woman's swimming champion of the United States and Canada, while the latter was the international tennis champion. Taking a short run to Hollywood, I ran across Lewis Miller, a famous screen idol, talking with his illustrious attorney, Jack John, the editor of our Petosegan. Al Dudek is an electrician in the Hollywood studios.

Our home state, Michigan, still retains some of its children. Albert Sweet is the head of the Chemistry Department at M. S. C. Of course, you know, Marian Richardson is my secretary. I frequently see Mildred Dashner who is happily married and living in Kegomic. In Grand Rapids is Marion Jachimowicz, the wife of a furniture dealer. Carl Hyatt is a prosperous farmer in this region. Chris Boland is the owner of a flourishing greenhouse. The first candy factory ever operated in Petoskey is owned by George Gemmill.

We are also well represented abroad, Lester Pagel is U. S. Ambassador to England and very ably fills his position. Edna Hoffman is a pianist and composer of note in Paris. Otis Love won laurels for the United States in the Olympic Games in Europe this year. I saw Wanda Lear in Italy getting material for her next book. In the missionary line we have Ray Foley who has a post in the South Sea Isles. Too soon I found myself once more alone in my study. The recent journey passed as a dream again before my eyes, so clearly that I can even now see it. I know you will all be interested to hear of each other and I have taken this means to tell you.

Yours truly,

H. N.

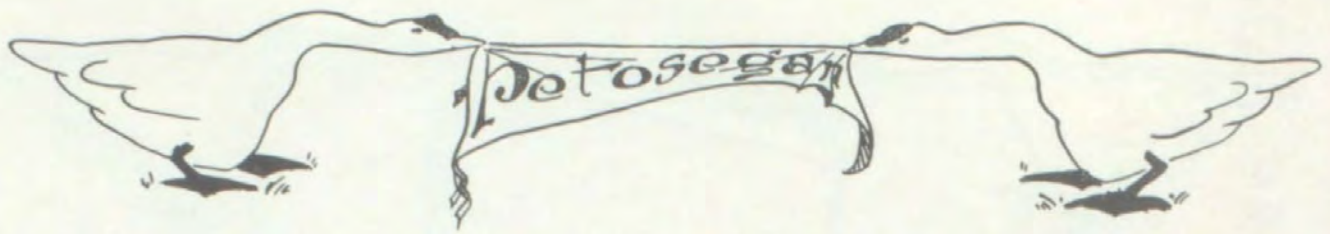

Senior Class History

The fall of 1923 saw about one hundred green and ignorant creatures, otherwise known as the class of '27, enter P. H. S. The extreme ignorance of such an ungainly body caused great delay but after much discussion and many explanations, William McCune was chosen as president of the company; Rolland North, vice-president, and Maybell Garland the guardian of our wealth-that-was-to-be. Mr. Collins was asked to be general manager, and after his departure Mr. Hirschy filled that important position. Our first social venture, the Freshman party, was in November and most successful. The Alpena and Petoskey football players were the guests of honor and the upper classmen attended in full force, which proved that although they considered themselves much superior to us, nevertheless they were very willing to partake of our hospitality. After the mid-year exams we celebrated the end of our first semester with a sleigh-ride party to Harbor Springs for the basketball game. Raymond Foley, Lewis Miller and Lawrence McCarthy represented us in the annual Freshman-Sophomore debate, but in spite of their careful, well-planned labor the decision was made in favor of the more experienced Sophomores. With great joy we disbanded for a short vacation at the end of our first year.

September, 1924, brought us again together for our second year of business. Perhaps the rocks and perils of the first year were too severe for some, at any rate our number was not as large as the first year. This time we selected Lewis Miller as our most worthy leader and Nila Otto for his assistant. Alta Fay was given the search for our buried treasure and Miss Scales consented to be our guide. Our second year was making us more exclusive so we held our class party for the Sophomores and faculty only, while the other students of P. H. S. looked on in envy, thinking of our generosity last year. In our second Freshman-Sophomore debate, Marguerite Click, William McCune and Chris. Boland made up our team. Only by the skin of their teeth were the Freshmen victorious. All this time we were contemplating our Junior year. Soon June had come again and, much pleased with ourselves for finishing so creditably our first two years, we separated for a few months.

In 1925, we proudly entered upon our Junior year. At last we had outgrown the title of underclassmen! Having much to accomplish we carefully deliberated before electing officers but we finally chose Rolland North, president; Lewis Miller, vice-president, and Lillian Feather, secretary and treasurer. Mr. Treloar proved himself fully equal to taking us safely through the dangerous financial forest which we were forced to make our way. It was greatly to our credit that in the spring we gave the class of '26 the best J-Hop Petoskey High School has ever had, for our class scarcely numbered over fifty. The hop was given at Ramona Park Hotel and the Seniors were given the very best farewell possible. The arrival of June put an end to our activities for a short time.

This year we again were united for our last work in P. H. S. The time has proven all too short for the things we wished to do. William McCune was asked to finish up the work as our Freshman president, Jack John has assisted with his best efforts, Lester Pagel was elected secretary and Raymond Foley, treasurer. We hope to leave an Annual for P. H. S. that the school can feel proud of.

Motto—"Equaled Never"

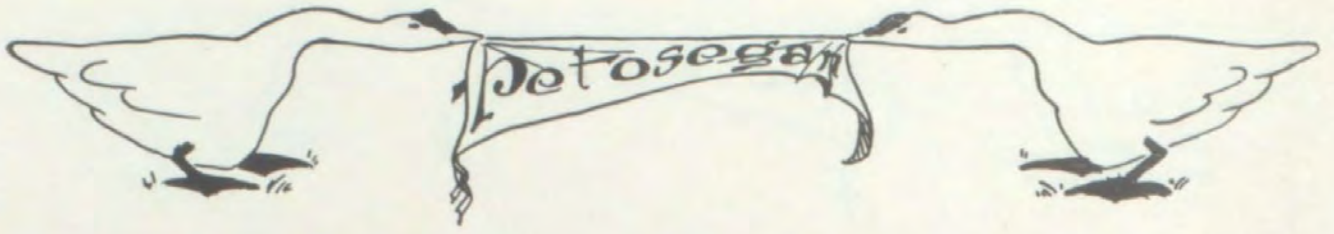

Class History of '28

This famous class of '28 started a trip through Petoskey High School September 14, 1924, in the best car they could afford (a Ford). One hundred twenty ambitious young people decided to journey through their Freshman year. Howard Parks was selected to do the driving, Robert Woodruff to assist him, and Mildred Crow to collect affairs. Mr. Hirschy was induced to be our advisor. We remained as Freshmen long enough to give a party and to organize a debating team and after extensive work it defeated the on-coming Sophs. During our first year several members of our class made the varsity athletic team.

In the fall of 1925 we traded in our worn-out Ford for a Dodge. This year there were but one hundred two students taking the trip. The class chose our worthy Stuart McIntyre as pilot to direct the trip, Lester Locke to assist him, and Mildred Crow again to act as treasurer. During our Sophomore year we had a successful party and our debating team, composed of Stuart McIntyre, Robert Miller and Newell Saigeon, defeated the mighty Frosh of '29. Our athletes were prominent again this year. They formed a track team that won the inter-class track meet and we again placed several members of our class on the varsity team. Other classes began to take notice of the successful trip we were making.

The beginning of the school year of 1925, we traded our Dodge for a brand new Lincoln. There were but ninety-eight students left to ride with us, showing that twenty-two students had been lost off on account of the rough high-ways since our Freshman year. The class this year placed Robert Miller at the steering wheel, Leslie Niles at his right hand to help him, Mildred to keep the books, and Richard Densmore to hold our purse strings.

Our car has been running fine this year and everything is going smoothly so we have selected the motto fitting to us, "Equaled Never." This is quite a stand to take but we believe we can live up to it because of these three reasons: First, the large number in the class of '28 who have been selected to represent our school in all lines of athletics; second, the representation of our class in debating; and third, the loyalty of the class members in filling our purse for the J-Hop and other occasions. So far our cars have not troubled us and we have been able to prepare for one of the best J-Hops in the school history excluding none.

Class History of '29

On September 12, 1925, we, one hundred and thirty verdant Freshmen began our cruise on the scholastic seas of Petoskey High School.

In organizing our crew we chose Martin Guleserian, captain; Malcolm Taylor, first mate; Carleton Saunders, super-cargo, and Miss Anderson, class advisor. As members of the Student Council we chose Hazel Wilson, Lucille Riley, George Herrick and Robert Lovelace.

December the 12th we held our first Freshman class party (which was said to be the best Freshman class party held that year).

Our class displayed interest in athletics, debates and other school activities. Martin Guleserian distinguished himself in football, and John DeArment and Fred Curtis were prominent in basketball.

December 17th we met the Sophomores in debate. Our representatives were Isabelle Steen, Lucille Germond and Charles Moore. The Sophomores won a 2-1 decision.

In the school declamatory contest Isabelle Steen won first place but accepted defeat at the sub-district contest, placing second.

When June came we were all mighty glad of a few weeks' shore leave as we were getting rather seasick.

In the fall of 1926 we were all happy to embark again, and we had a new ship, "The Sophomore." Isabelle Steen was chosen captain; Katherine Behan, first mate; Charles Moore and Glenn Snyder, super-cargo men; and Lucille Germond, Elizabeth Upton, Malcolm Taylor and Frederick Curtis as Student Council members, and Mr. Cortright as class advisor.

December the 17th we met three of the Freshmen pirates in debate. Our three representatives, Isabelle Steen, Lucille Germond and Elbridge Starmer, with their verbal cutlasses and argumentative cannon balls, were able to wrest a 2-1 decision in our favor. In declamation Jean Monteith won the right to represent the school, and was placed first in the sub-district contest at Harbor Springs, proceeding to the district contest at Fremont. She again received first place, an honor never before attained by a student of Petoskey High School.

February, having tired of our mental ration of navy beans and hardtack, we paused long enough to give a class party which was a great success.

In the larger maneuverings of the school, Fred Curtis and Lawrence Hinds received titles in basketball, and Fred Curtis and Martin Guleserian made a good showing in football, and Charles Moore made the 'Varsity debate team.

With the solid ground of June in sight we all draw a breath of relief, knowing that next fall a new ship, the "Junior," awaits us.

Class History of '30

It was in the middle of the winter of February, 1926, blown in on the tail-end of a Northern Michigan blizzard, and in the golden autumn of the same year that there came to Petoskey High School the largest class of Freshmen it ever welcomed. For days before the advent of this class all nature was in a state of eager expectancy, such as await the birth of a national hero or precedes an event of world-wide importance. Did the teachers have any presentment when they looked into the searching eyes and intelligent faces, that the verdant minds before them were to increase their labors to so great an extent?

Upon October 15 the class of '29-'30 was organized. The officers are: President, Catherine Edyvean; vice-president, Bert Hager; secretary, Arthur Mosier; treasurer, Marion Feather; Student Council representatives—Regina O'Donnell, Esther Christopher, Robert Truesdell and Glenn Dashner; class advisor—Mr. Jacobs.

As Freshman we never attempt to do the abnormally green;
 We never let Sophomores rule us nor be Sophomorally green;
 We never permit the Juniors to snub us on the street;
 And we never look up to a Senior unless he exceeds six feet.

On March fifth the Freshman party was held in the High School Gymnasium, which was decorated in the class colors of purple and gold. The grand march was led by Mr. and Mrs. Spitler and Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs, and at different intervals games were played. The rest of the time was spent in dancing with music by the Oriole Orchestra.

In athletics the Freshman class has a bright future. This year Asahel Tillotson caused a great sensation in basketball and already several feminine somebodys have set their cap for him. The girls' basketball team also deserves honorable mention for their showing against a certain team.

Despite the fact that the Sophomores deem themselves superior to the Freshmen, it is a noticeable feature that they are not able to resist the temptation to join them during "certain specified hours of the day for certain specified studies."

So, as the Freshman class er' hope to be:

First in the class-room,
 First in the ball-room,
 And first in the hearts of the faculty.

In Memoriam

Ervin Slack

A great loss was brought to our school this year when Ervin Slack was taken from us. His smiling face and cheerful ways had almost become a tradition to our school, and he is very greatly missed.

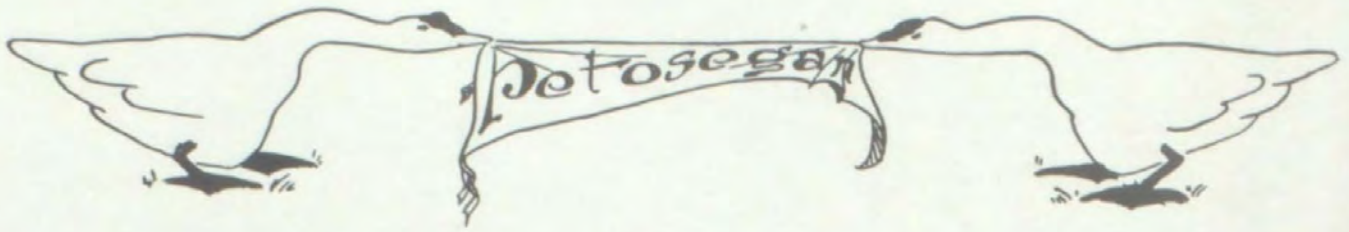

Pep Club

A new organization was introduced into the school this year in the form of a Pep Club. They are exactly what their name implies—PEP. Ted Foley was appointed president and Jack John business manager. It is hardly necessary and would be almost impossible to enumerate the things they have done this year.

A few things they have accomplished, such as the cheering at the games, the Pep meetings and dances, and the stickers and literature they have distributed among us concerning the games, cannot be passed over without mention.

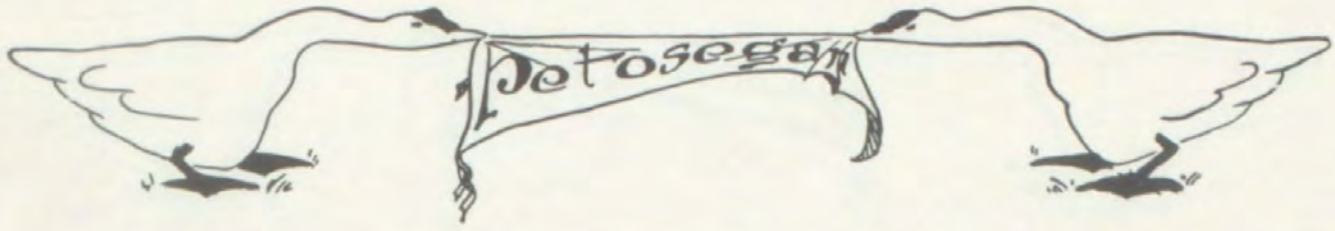

A great deal of credit goes to Mr. Bates because of his whole-hearted co-operation in everything they have done. We surely hope that this organization will have as much success next year, because they have added a great deal to the wonderful spirit and pep of this school.

Mrs. Rosalie Stech

We are dedicating this page to Mrs. Stech because we believe that the ability and time she has given to the direction of plays and activities in this high school surely does deserve recognition.

It is very seldom that real ability along this line is found in a high school. But after seeing "The Whole Town's Talking" and "So This Is London" and other successes she has directed in previous years, it must be admitted that we are fortunate to have someone like Mrs. Stech on our faculty.

Dramatic Club

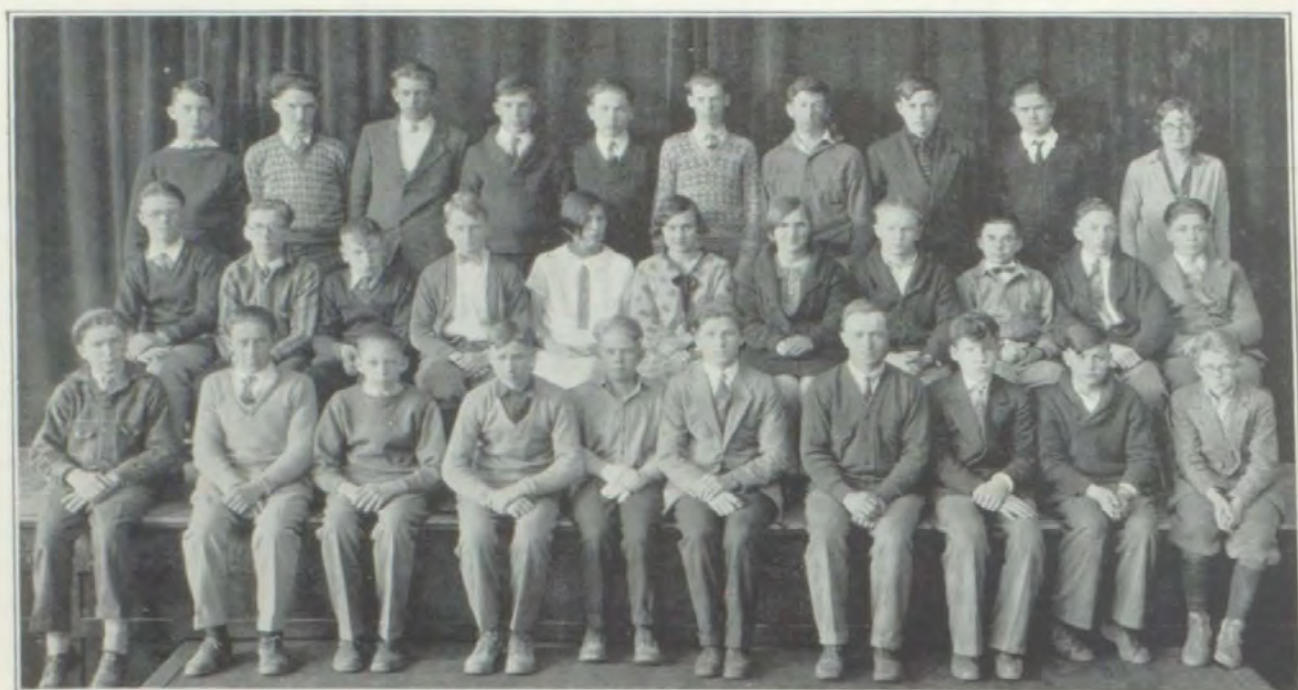

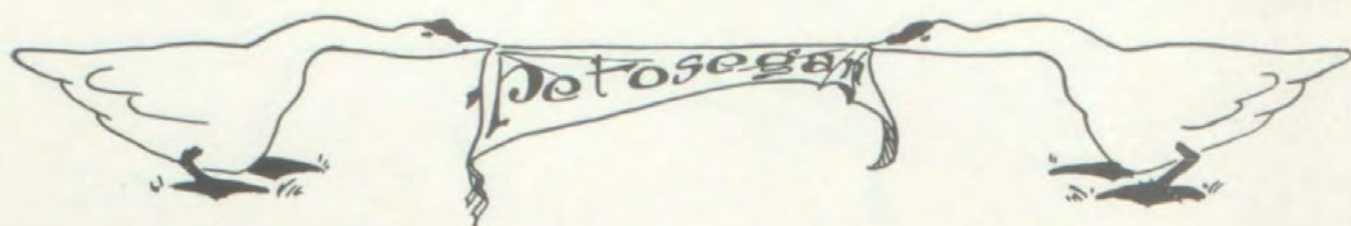

The aim of the Dramatic Club is to teach the practice and theory of dramatic art; not to develop professionals but to help one to be at ease before an audience and to stimulate good taste in theatrical productions.

This year the Senior Dramatic Club, composed of Juniors and Seniors only, have taken a new name. "Strut and Fret" from the Shakespearian play, Macbeth—

And then is heard no more."
"Life's but a walking shadow,
A poor player
That 'struts and frets' his hour
Upon the stage

Much to the enjoyment of the body and townspeople, the club staged the farce "The Whole Town's Talking" under the appreciative direction of Mrs. Stech; also the Senior class play, "So This Is London."

The club holds a meeting every two weeks. The text book used is "Practical Hints on Stage Training," by Agnes Platt; short plays, also, are read and various types of characters are impersonated. Much praise and appreciation is due Mrs. Stech, who is a capable director and makes this activity highly patronized and interesting.

Science Club

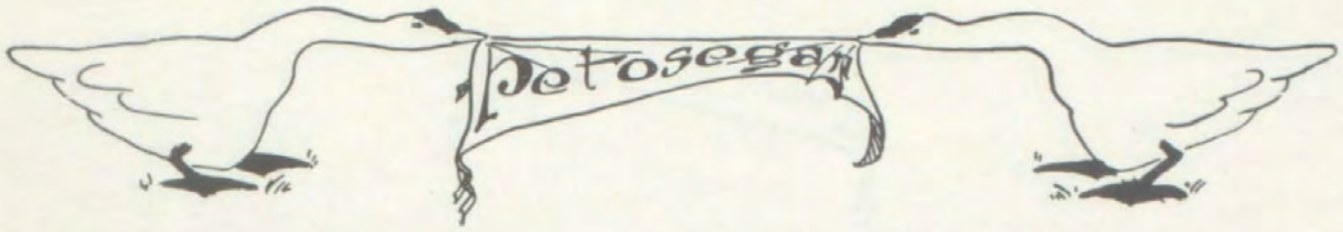

The Science Club is an organization, designed mainly for Freshmen and Sophomores, which has for its name "The Stimulation of Interest in Science." To this end the programs were made as varied and as interesting as possible, the materials being adopted from all branches of science. (Such as chemistry, physics, and biology, astronomy, minerology, etc.)

Each member of the club subscribed to a current science review, the articles of which were discussed in the meetings. At intervals during the year moving pictures of industrial and scientific processes were shown to the group. At other times the hour was devoted to experiments performed and explained by the members.

The Science Club and Miss Billings' Camp-fire group had a joint party on May 20. The early part of the evening was spent in games, after which a mock initiation was put on in the lecture room by the Science Club. The Camp-fire girls then entertained with a clever pantomime. This was followed by refreshments served in the lunch room.

The officers of the club are as follows:

CARL HYATT	President
HENRY HOLMBERG	Vice-President
THURLOW STONE.....	Secretary and Treasurer
JESSIE BIXBY	Faculty Advisor

Clisophic Club

The Clisophic organization has again come to the close of a very successful year. We have not only found enjoyment in our club but we have derived a great deal of benefit from our study. Literary topics have usually been the theme of our discussions.

Our society meets twice a month under the supervision of Miss Richard and Miss Moore.

We feel as an organization that we have been drawn closer together, and the success of our year's accomplishment is due largely to the splendid co-operation of our members and teachers.

Junior Hi-Y

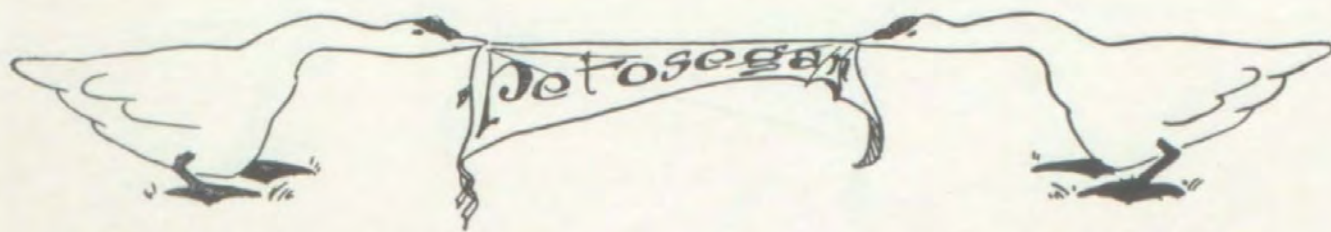

The Junior Hi-Y is an organization that is made up of boys who wish to become Senior Hi-Y members. It is really a stepping stone for the younger fellows into the club with the older fellows. Its principles are practically the same as that of the Senior Hi-Y.

Their meetings are conducted in the same manner and they have the same leader, Mr. MacMillan, who is at the head of Senior Hi-Y. They conduct many enterprises of their own as well as helping the Senior Hi-Y in all of theirs.

The officers of the club are as follows:

ROBERT LOVELACE	President
LAWRENCE HINDS	Treasurer
GLENN SNYDER	Secretary

There is discussion now in the groups about having these two organizations combined and formed one. However, if they combine or not, the influence of both of these clubs will be as keenly felt about the school as ever before.

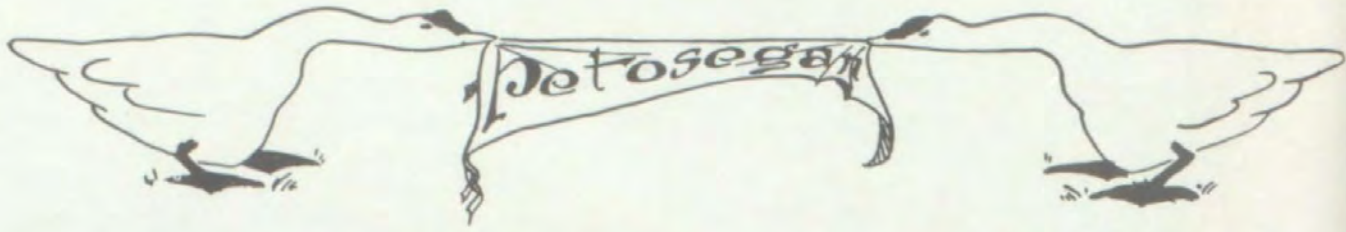

Senior Hi-Y

Of all the organizations of the school the Senior Hi-Y receives the least publicity of any. Their work is confined to thoughts and morals that are to be respected instead of published. They have done a great deal of good in promoting better school citizenship and fellowship among the boys of the school and town.

William McCune was chosen president of the Hi-Y; Rolland North is vice-president; Lewis Miller, treasurer, and Carlton Thomas, secretary.

At each meeting a speaker is secured from the business or professional men of the town to talk to them on business opportunities and ethics. They also have luncheons and social meetings. These are put on by the boys of the club and are usually accompanied by a good time.

Mr. MacMillan is to be complimented on the spirit he has drilled into this organization.

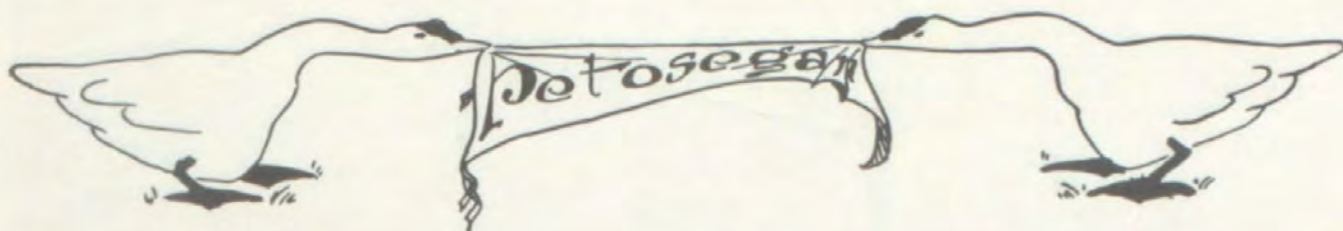

Student House

The Student House of Representatives, the organization that was established to make senators and representatives of the students of Petoskey High School, was the largest in history, having forty members.

This year, because of the size, the Student House was divided into two parts. The Conservatives, under the leadership of Robert Engle, had Mr. Hirschy, the teacher, who has led the Student House for several years as their faculty advisor. The Radicals, with Dalon Ely as leader, were under Mr. Cortright, the new debating coach at Petoskey.

In the Student House the boys learn to get up and say what they want to, not only in this club but in the class room and other public places. Also many modern questions, such as "World Disarmament," "Capital Punishment in Michigan," "A Deep Sea Water-way to the Great Lakes" and "Immediate Independence for the Philippines," are brought before the notice of the members.

The Student House banquet, annually enjoyed by all the members, was held at the Perry Hotel, May 23rd, and everyone enjoyed one of the best banquets ever put on by the Student House.

Honor Society

This society was first organized in Petoskey High School in June, 1925, at which time we were granted a charter admitting us to the National Honor Society, as the Petosegan Chapter. Each year a given percentage of students, ranking highest in scholarship are elected from the Junior and Senior classes. These students, elected by the faculty, must also meet the requirements for character, leadership and service to the school.

The pins for the society are very symbolic of its high standards, being a key-stone and torch with the letters C-S-L-S at the base. These pins are presented, by the school, to each new member upon their being taken into the society.

In June, 1926, the seven new members which were elected from the Junior class a few weeks before were entertained at a very delightful banquet given in their honor at the Hotel Perry. At this time they were also initiated into the organization and the new officers were elected for the coming year.

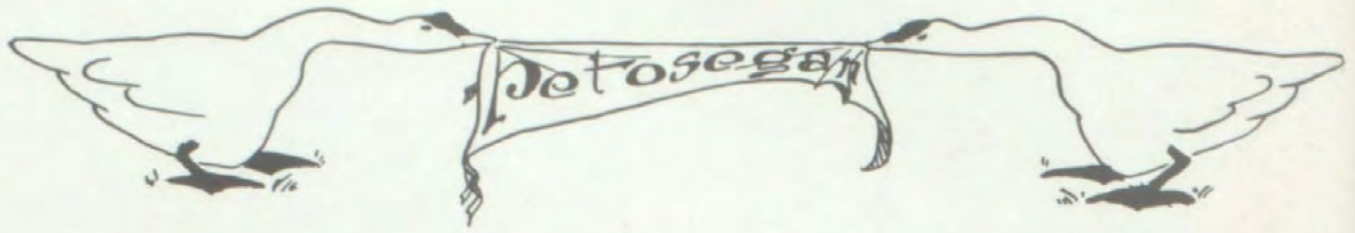

The society has been very fortunate in having for a faculty advisor Miss Beebe. She has held this office since the society has been organized. To belong to this society is indeed one of the greatest honors one could hope to achieve in their high school days. Every member of this organization is to be congratulated upon this achievement.

The election of the new members was held this year in April. At this time seven new members were chosen, two from the Senior and five from the Junior classes. This gives the society a total membership of fourteen.

The new members were given a banquet and initiated into the society on May the tenth. At this time new officers were again elected for 1928.

The officers for 1927 are as follows:

WILLIAM McCUNE*President*
 ROLLAND NORTH*Vice-President*
 LORRAINE NEWMAN*Secretary and Treasurer*

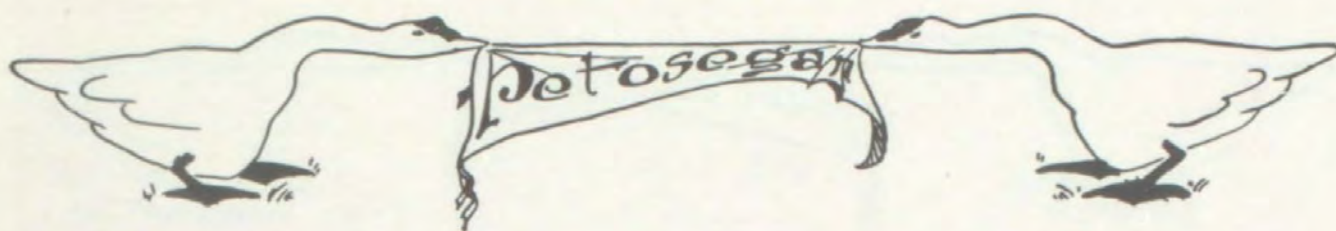

Athletic Club

The principle of the Athletic Club is to bring about a better understanding of the sports that are taken up in our school.

All rules and fundamentals of the games are explained and discussed in the meetings.

This organization also bears on a more vital subject than just the rules and regulations of the game and that is a love for good clean sportsmanship. We believe that this has a great deal to do with the high standing of our school and in regard to sportsmanship.

The fellows have a very able leader in the discussion of these subjects in our coach, John Hess.

Boys' Glee Club

This is our Boys' Glee Club, who have done some very commendable work this year, and it was a real treat each time we heard them sing. A quartet was organized this year that was a great success. The quartet was composed of William McCune, Rolland North, James Atkins and Lyle Faunce. They sang at many of the social functions of the school, including the school dances and parties.

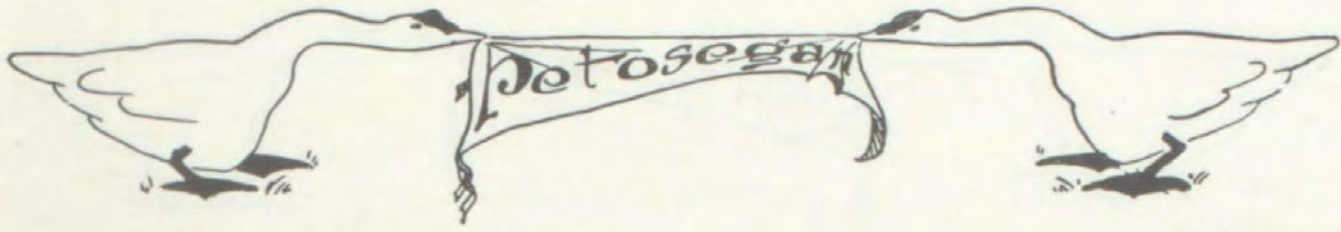

The Glee Club has been invited to several of the churches to sing and on other occasions have sung before the townspeople. They were very well received each time. The personnel of the club is as follows:

Girls' Glee Club

The Girls' Glee Club was organized this year with twenty-seven members. The officers elected were: President, Marcia Winsor, and secretary and treasurer, Helen Niles. At an early meeting it was decided that the girls should appear in uniform for their programs. The school colors of blue and white were selected, blue dresses with white collars, cuffs and ties.

The Glee Club gave a number of very pleasing programs, appearing before the State Teachers' Convention, the Assembly, in the May Festival and in several other programs. The great success of the club this year was due to the excellent supervision of their director, Miss George.

During the year several parties were enjoyed by the club at the homes of the different members.

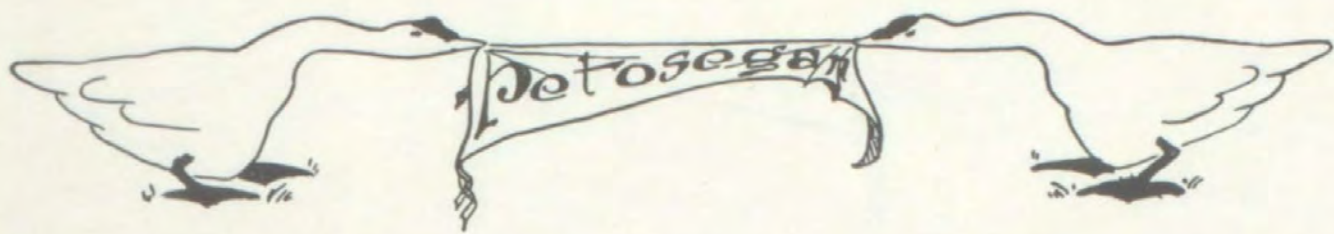

Band

There is little doubt left as to the success our band has been.

Mr. McCollum, with about thirty-five green recruits, started in November to organize a School Band, and only many hours of long untiring drilling have given them the place they now hold in our school.

After the band was well under way, the Student Council decided to raise money to buy them uniforms and by selling tags and by sponsoring shows, they finally got them in time for our basketball tournament. We leave it to anyone who saw them perform at the tournament whether they were a success or not.

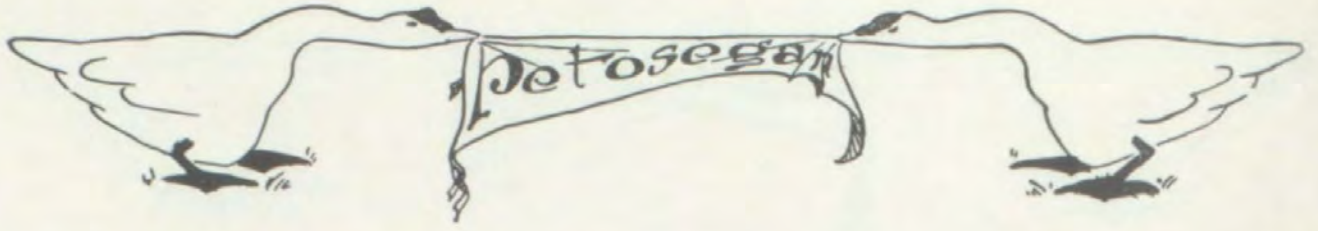

We, Seniors, have only one regret about the band and that is, that we will not be present next fall when they parade out at the football games on our new Curtis athletic field.

Orchestra

The Petoskey High School Orchestra, composed of twenty-seven students under the leadership of Professor McCollum, has proven itself to be one of the active musical organizations of the school.

Each year it has its part in the May Festival, besides always being ready to play an opening concert for different entertainments held at the school. This year it has played at debates, plays and lectures, being greatly appreciated by the townspeople as well as by the students.

Student Council

The purpose of the Student Council is to foster school spirit, to raise the standards of the school and to work in every way to make Petoskey High the best high school in Michigan.

The Council has sponsored all school parties which have been a series of successes; the Christmas party especially was a great success.

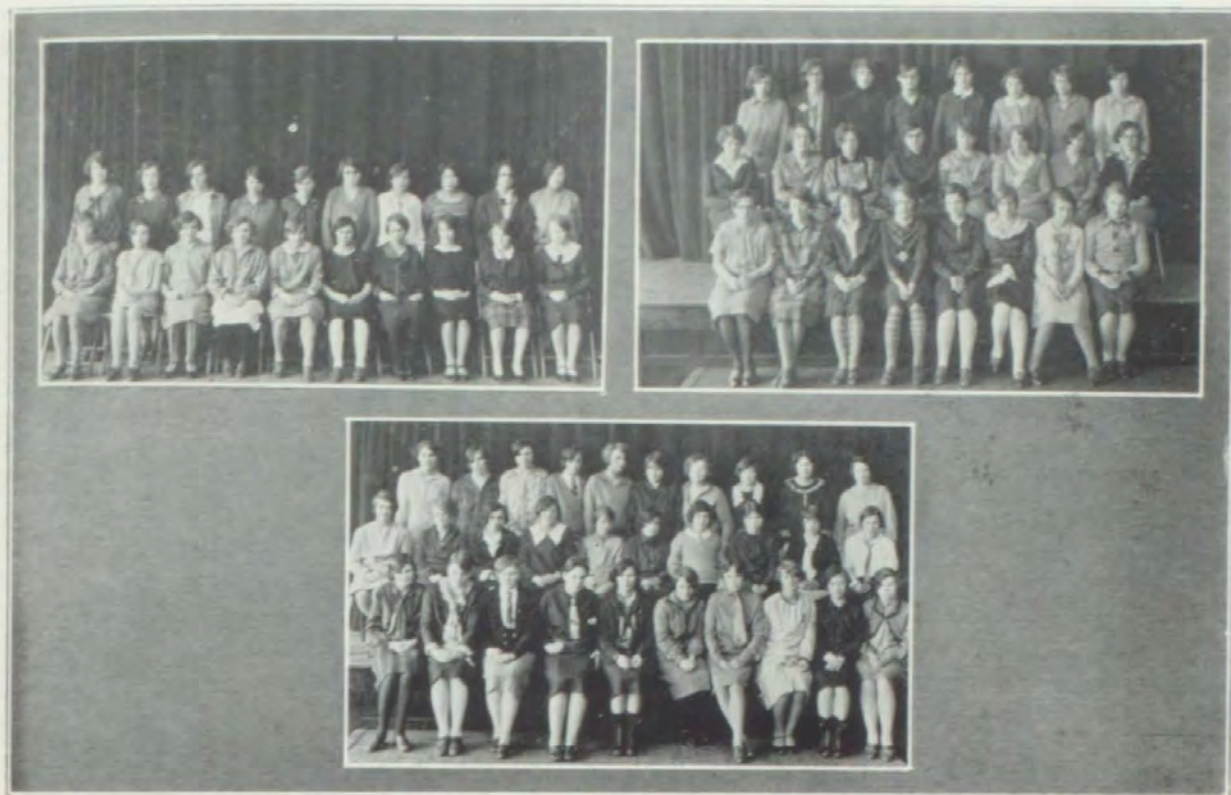

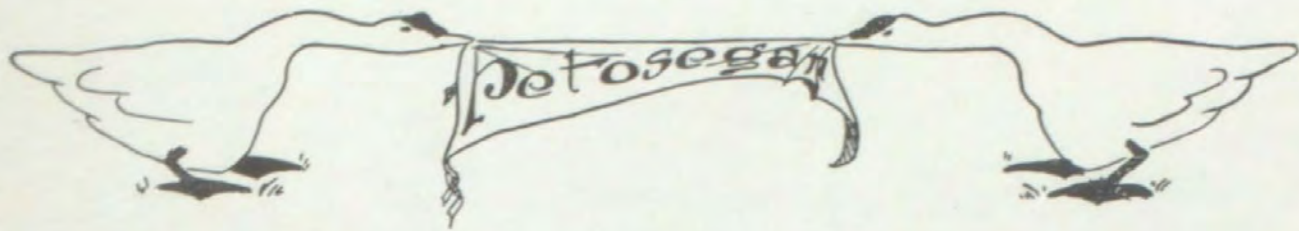

There have been many other things they have looked after; among these are the monitor system in the cloak room, and the "Keep Our School Clean" campaign.

They also helped during the tournament. Letters were sent out to all the visiting teams. Everything possible was done to make their stay here a pleasant one. Trains were met, an information booth maintained, and the teams were shown around as much as possible.

The biggest thing that was undertaken this year was the purchasing of the band uniforms. The Council first held a tag sale which proved successful and netted a good proportion of the money needed. The profits of the Council parties were also added to this fund. Then the Junior class donated a sum from their profits on the Junior play. Mr. Charles Levinson, owner of the New Hollywood Theatre, helped this fund by giving us a certain amount of each ticket we sold for a picture.

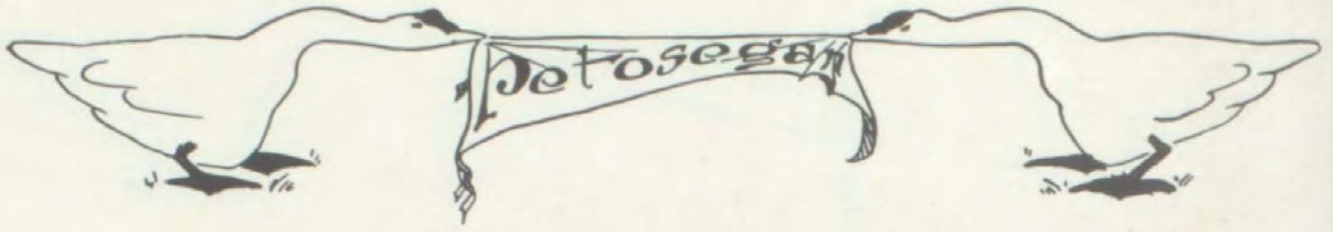

We, of the Student Council, wish to thank the student body for their hearty co-operation this year in everything undertaken. We also wish to thank the townspeople for their support, especially in enabling us to purchase the band uniforms. A great deal of credit also goes to Mr. Bates for the time and help he has given us in everything we have undertaken.

We hope the Council next year has great success, and it surely will if the student body co-operates with it as it has with us this year.

Camp Fire Girls

Petoskey's three Camp Fire groups decided not to be affiliated with the national organization this year, but the membership has been large and the groups active. Meetings have been held bi-weekly and much time has been spent in earning money to permit the groups to finish the school year with camping expedition to Walloon Lake. The various groups have been under the leadership of Miss Billings, Miss Meyer and Miss Caldwell.

CAPTAIN LOVE

1926 Track

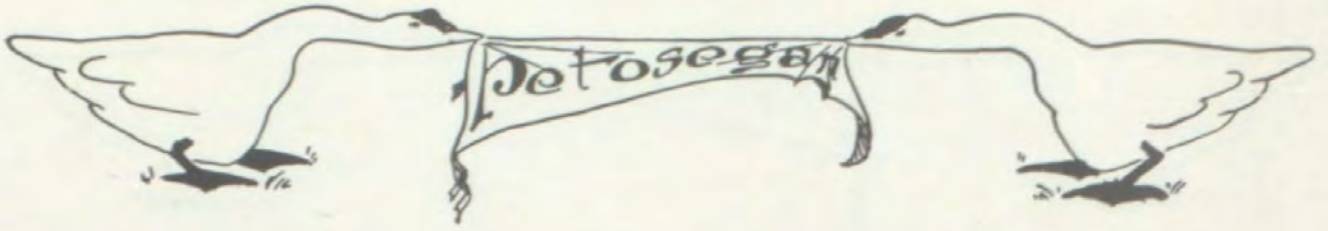

Petoskey won her first track meet of the season from Boyne City and Charlevoix at the Fair Grounds, the Petoskey boys getting 96 of the points to her credit, Boyne City 23 and Charlevoix 2.

The next meet was held with Harbor Springs, our rivals from across the bay. We had no opposition and no trouble in whipping them into submission.

The next week-end Petoskey was to go to Cadillac for the Northern Michigan, but Cadillac was quarantined for smallpox and the meet was postponed until the following Saturday, at which time the tenth annual Northern Michigan and Field Meet was held in Petoskey. Cadillac brought the trophies and Petoskey supplied the officials. It was a grand day for the meet, and it went off in grand style for the simple reason Petoskey won. We also won the relay race for the first time since 1924.

SUMMARY OF EVENTS

100-yard Dash—March, Petoskey, first; Miller, Cadillac, second; Warren, Cadillac, third. Time, 10.4 seconds.

Football Season 1926

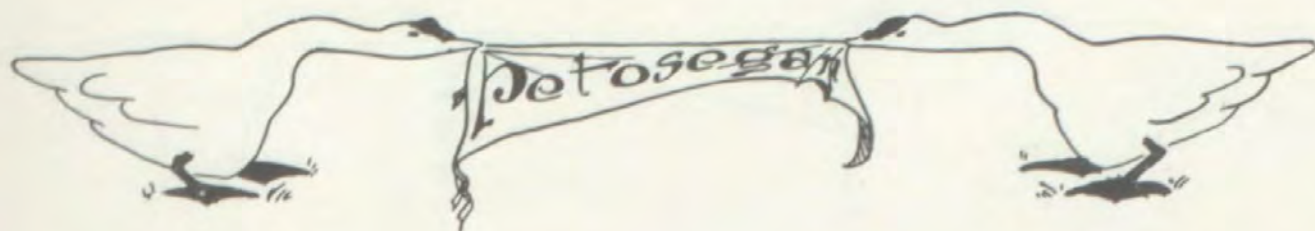

Coach Hess issued a call for football candidates on the first day of school and was rewarded with fifty men in uniform the first night. He picked his squad of twenty-five and started whipping them into shape for the first game which was only two weeks away. The outlook for a championship team was very bright with a number of old stars back and also a large number of new men who looked like football players.

The old men back were: Menzel, Holmberg, North, LeRoy, Faunce and March, who had seen service the year before. King and Pierson had not entered school; they returned later, Pierson finishing the year. King's departure left us without a center. Hess worked in O'Donnell, Woodruff, Wells and Stafford. These men proved their worth all season.

The first game was with East Jordan on September 25th. The team entered the game as new material with only two weeks' practice, but had the P. H. S. spirit and came through with flying colors on the large end of a 25 to 0 score.

The next game, on October 2, was with Mancelona, who, although very light, were very fast. Our warriors took their scalps and registered a 63 to 0 count against them.

The following Saturday, Petoskey took the short trip to Harbor Springs. The team was accompanied by about half the town. The first half was played on a dry, dusty field, but the second half was played in a hard rainstorm. However, our team won the game by the score of 25 to 0, and thus far we had not been scored on.

Then the strong, heavy Soo team came to Petoskey, accompanied by their high school band. Petoskey made a touchdown in the first quarter and this was the only counter of the game, which was fast and furious, the final score being 6-0.

On Saturday, October 23rd, Petoskey travelled to Boyne City for the fifth game. In the first quarter Boyne blocked a punt and scored a touchdown and a point afterwards. Fighting an up-hill battle from that time on, the Blue and White showed the kind of stuff in the teams of Petoskey High and won the game by the score of 19 to 7. However, although we had been scored on, we could still say that the ball had not been carried across our goal-line, because it rolled across and was fallen on by Judkins, their star center.

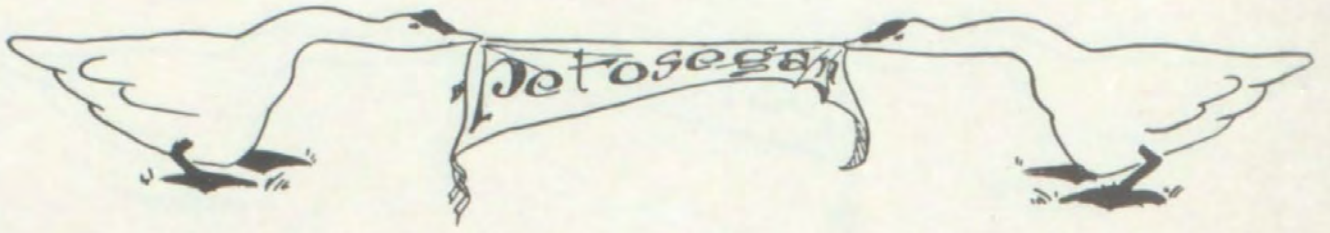

Charlevoix brought their team to Petoskey the following Saturday and received at Petoskey's hands a very thorough beating. When the game closed the score stood Petoskey 51, Charlevoix 0.

The following week-end Petoskey met the strongest team yet, when they ran against Cadillac. The half ended with the score Cadillac 2, Petoskey 0. Cadillac had made a safety when a bad pass from the center sent the ball across our goal-line where Cadillac fell on it. The second half was very fast with Petoskey trying passes for long gains. It was not until the fourth quarter, with about three minutes to play and with the ball on Cadillac's 43-yard line, that O'Donnell called Holmberg, our mighty tackle, back to try for a field-goal. The crowd was silent as the signals were called and a wonderful pass was made by our little center, Stafford. Holmberg paced his distance and with a mighty kick sent the ball soaring into space in one of the prettiest place-kicks in the history of Northern football. The ball sailed squarely between the uprights for three points. That settled Cadillac. Petoskey took to the air and after two nice passes went over for a touchdown with only one minute to play. The game ended with the score Petoskey 9, Cadillac 2.

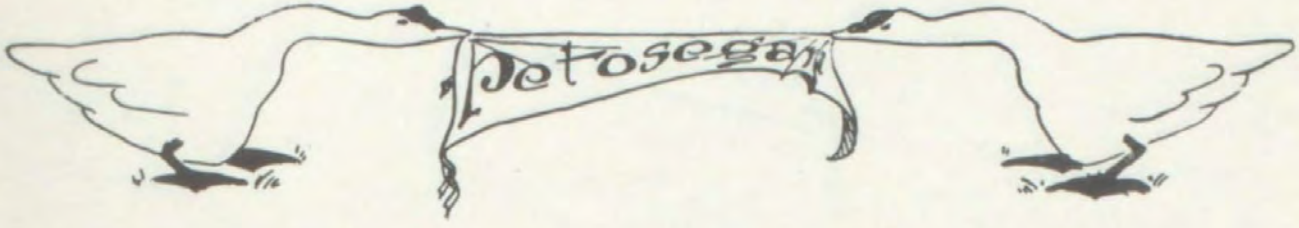

Alpena was forced to come to Petoskey for their game because of the condition of their field, and Petoskey had no trouble in turning in a 47 to 0 win over them.

The last game of the season was yet to be played, and no one knew how it was to come out, but what happened that Saturday made history, because the victory which our team won over Traverse City, 19-0, gave Petoskey undisputed claim to the Northern Michigan Football Championship, and we also went through the season without a defeat and without having the ball carried across our goal-line. The total number of points scored by Petoskey during the season was 264, while our opponents scored but 9.

Petoskey was also honored by having three men on all of the All-Northern Football elevens picked by various sport writers of the district—Menzel as halfback, Holmberg at tackle and North at end. Menzel was also given a berth on the second All-State eleven. Pierson, who was acting captain because of the absence of King, was elected captain by his team-mates for 1927. This was the most successful season of football in the history of P. H. S.

Basketball Season '26-'27

A call for basketball recruits was issued following the close of Petoskey High School's most successful football season. Thirty men answered and Coach Hess thinned them down to a squad of eighteen, and started drilling them for the game with Mancelona which was to be played on the 10th of December.

There were several veterans who reported the first night. Pierson, March, Miller, Wells and Menzel were picked to play the first game.

On December 10th, Mancelona came here and our warriors won a hard-fought battle, the score not indicating the opposition. The count was 27-3. This battle disclosed to Coach Hess weak points in the defense and offense and he set off to mend these before the game with Kalkaska the following week-end.

December 17th, Kalkaska brought their team, which had not yet suffered defeat, to the Petoskey floor where Coach Hess' veterans snowed them completely under with a score of 46-4.

The following week-end Petoskey was to go to Pellston for their first game away from home, but two days before the battle the Pellston gym burned so Pellston came to Petoskey and returned home on the small end of a 30-9 score.

On December 29th, which was during Christmas vacation, the Alumni, or "has beens," played their annual game with the Petoskey High warriors. They came on the floor expecting to win, because they had Slack, Beer and McCabe who had been stars in high school. However, the high school team took them into camp to the tune of 23-16.

Manistee came to Petoskey on Friday, January 7th, for their game with the Blue and White. They had played at Harbor Springs the night before and had spent the day looking over our town and school. This was one of the hardest and fastest games of the year. Petoskey managed to nose out Manistee at the last minute of play with the score boards reading "Petoskey 18, Manistee 17."

The following week-end Petoskey played their first game away from home when they went to Cheboygan. However, they had a large number of rooters who accompanied them and who saw them return on the large end of a 24-16 score.

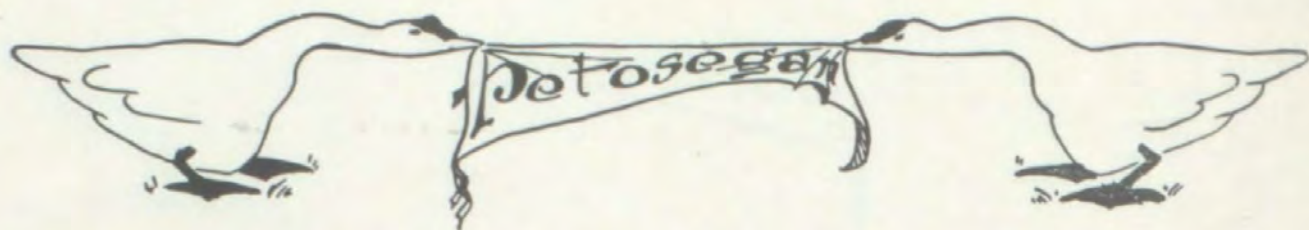

Traverse City came here on the 21st of January with revenge in their hearts. They were going to do their best to avenge the defeat they received from our football team. In a hard-fought game we were at the top of a 13-10 score. Traverse had to wait another chance.

The next week-end the game was played at Harbor Springs and the whole city of Petoskey moved over to Harbor to spend a few hours. The first contest of the evening was played between the two reserve teams, Petoskey winning by the score of 17-16. The big game of the evening was one of the fastest on the Harbor court. The Blue and White, after staging a hard game, were defeated by the score of 27-23.

Petoskey played a slow and uninteresting game against Charlevoix the following evening, winning with the score of 18-11.

On February 4th, Petoskey made the journey to Traverse City for their return game and were defeated by Coach Spruit's men 15-9. They had to play a very good brand of basketball to defeat the Blue and White.

The locals played their first game of the season with Cadillac February 11th. The down-staters took the lead in the first quarter and the first half ended with the score 12-5 Cadillac's favor. The second half opened with a rush. The Blue and White scored seven points the first two minutes but could not overcome the lead and were defeated, 19-17.

The Blue and White were without the services of Pierson, who had left the team after the Traverse City game, and Miller. Hinds played in Pierson's position and Tanner filled Miller's shoes. Miller returned the following week, but Pierson did not return this season.

On February 18th the home game with Harbor was played here before the largest crowd of the season. The score of this game was: Petoskey 23, Harbor 17. The score does not indicate the battle, however. Petoskey outplayed Harbor but could not find the basket and missed many short shots.

Boyne City played their return game here the following week-end. Woodruff, who was filling Pierson's position at guard, played a good game, the score being 30-11.

Cadillac played us here March 4th and defeated us 21-15. At the end of the first half Petoskey was leading, 11-10. Cadillac took the lead in the third quarter and were never headed. This closed the regular schedule, P. H. S. having 11 victories to 4 defeats.

On March 12th Petoskey played Cadillac at the Traverse City district tourney. Cadillac defeated Traverse the night before, while Petoskey drew the bye. In the finals the score was tied by Tanner in the closing minutes of play. In the over-time period Hinds slipped one in from the corner of the court, winning the game, 22-20. Petoskey received a large loving cup for this.

Tournament 1926-27

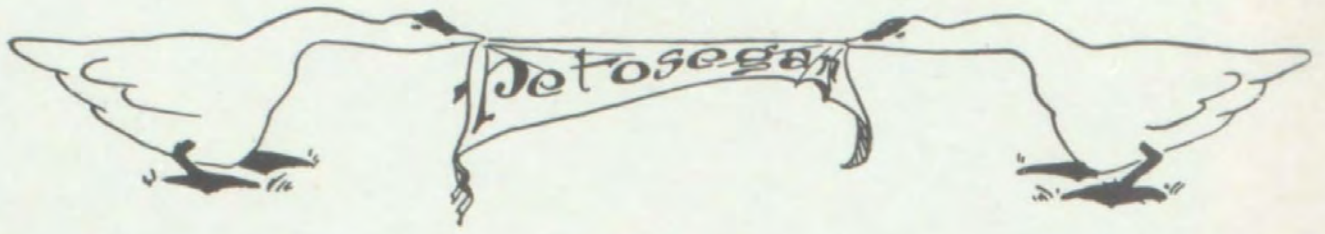

The eighth Annual Regional Basketball Tourney was held March 17th, 18th and 19th, 1927, in the Petoskey High School gym and was the most successful one held in this city. Although our team did not go through to the finals, the games were as well attended as if our team was playing.

Petoskey played Big Rapids in their first game, defeating them 19-8. Ludington was defeated by Manistee, 13-8, and Traverse won from Alpena, 23-4. These were the results of the first round for Cadillac drew the bye. In the second round Manistee eliminated P. H. S., 21-17. Menzel and Wells both left the game by the foul route, weakening our team and allowing the fast, smooth-playing Manistee team to step ahead in the last few minutes to win as they played superior basketball throughout. Traverse was defeated by their ancient rivals, Cadillac, 30-15. In the finals Cadillac defeated Manistee, 25-17. In the last two games Manistee was without the services of Chambers, their star center, who injured his ankle in the first game.

In the Class B consolation Big Rapids defeated Alpena, 15-8, and Ludington drew the bye. They forfeited to Big Rapids in the finals. Traverse forfeited to Petoskey for third place.

Girls' Basketball Teams

Very little is said about girls' basketball, but nevertheless they must be given credit for the fine games they have put on this year. The girls played preliminaries at some of our big games and they were always well received.

The annual girls' class tournament was staged about May 1st, the class of '27 won the same as they have the two previous years.

An all-star girls' team was chosen which is as follows:

Forwards	Centers	Guards
Margaret McConnell.'27	Marion Jackimowicz .'27	Helen Lawrence.....'27
Gladys Starmer.....'28	Alta Fay.....'27	Naomi Hooker.....'30

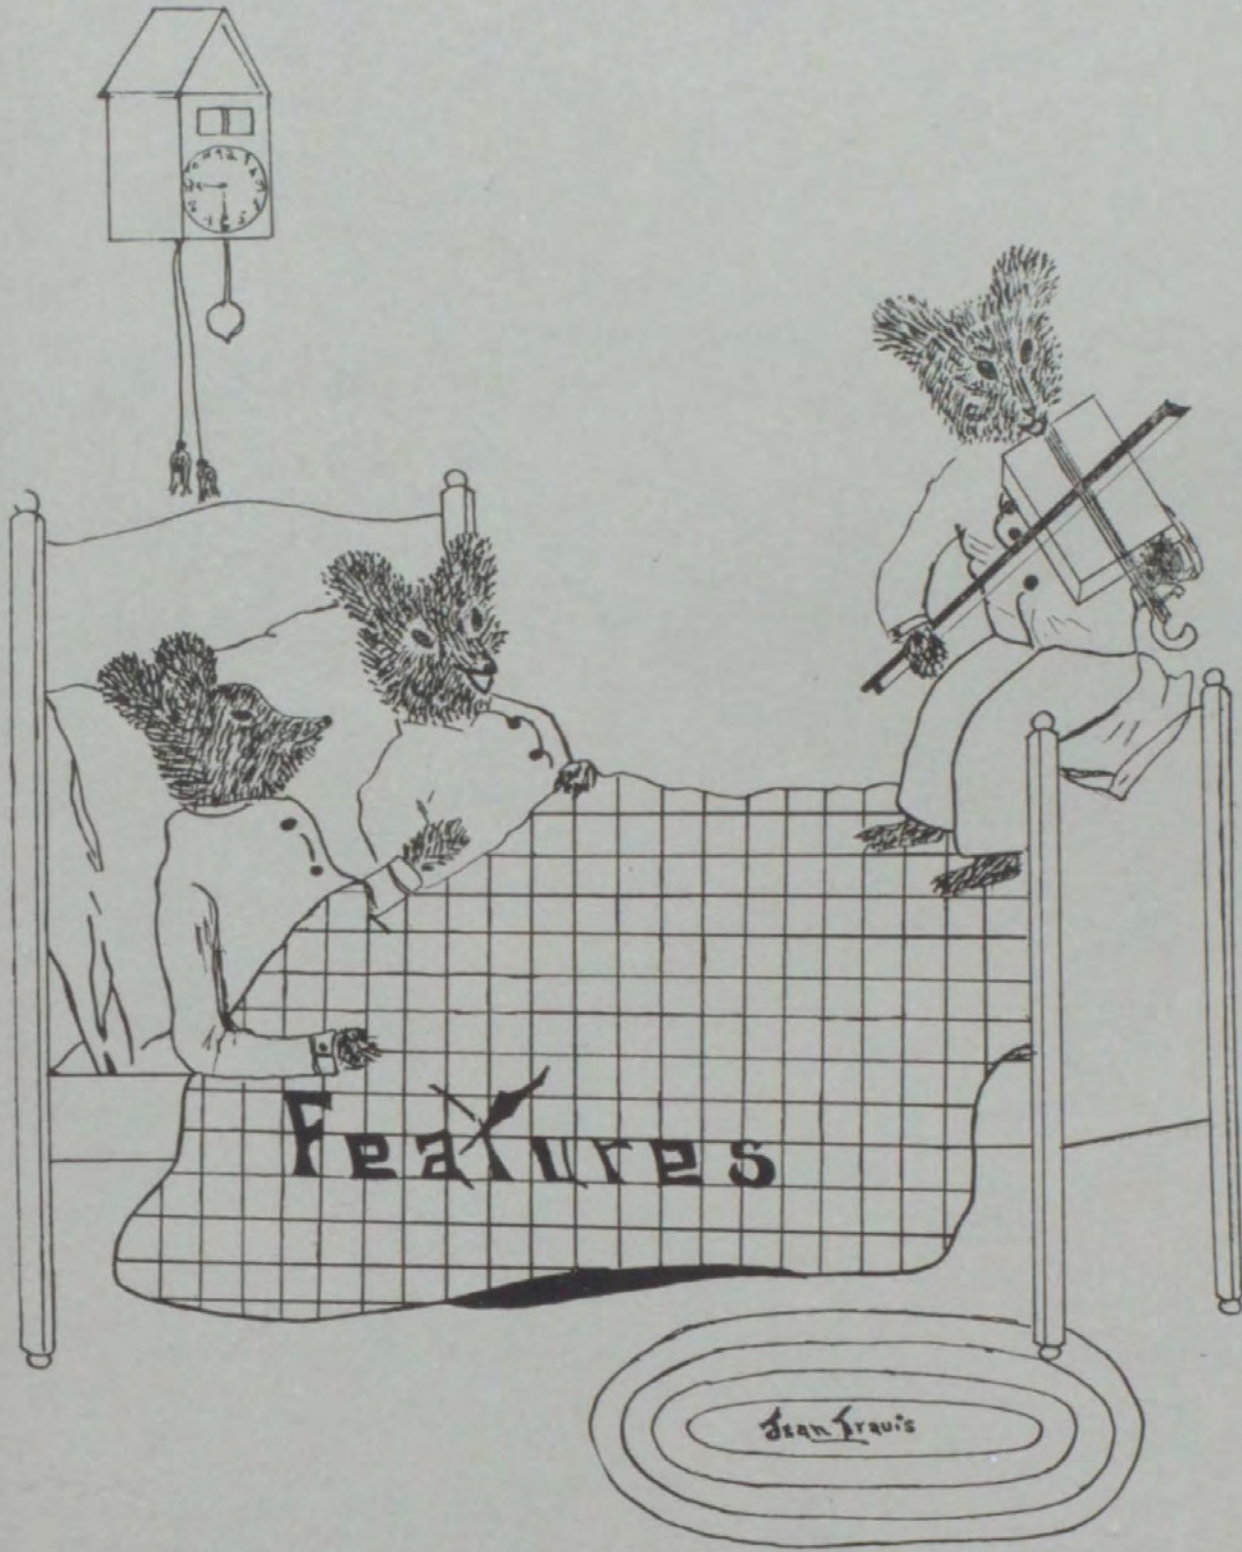

JACK JOHN—TED FOLEY—JACK SCHILLING—CARLETON SAUNDERS

It would be unfair to have an Annual this year without some mention of our cheer leaders. The cheering this year has been exceptional.

A cheering section at the basketball games helped a great deal. The school song and new yells also reaped their share of glory.

Ted and Jack graduate this year, but "Soup" and Schilling will be back next year to carry on the good work.

Happy thoughts and smiling glances,
Pleasing airs and songs and dances,
Unassuming, winsome grace,
Lithesome figure, fairest face,
That's what Edna Hoff-

FRED HOLMBERG

*What are "little" boys made of, made of?
Clean-cut features, eyes of gray,
Full of pep in work and play;
As to stature, six-foot plus.
Stalwart type that pleases
us,
That is what Fred Holmberg's made of.*

ALTA FAY

*Why should we choose Alta
among all our crowd?
For her bright, cheery smile,
for her manner so gay;
Of all charming girls that we may know about
There is nobody like her,
just one Alta Fay!*

JACK JOHN

*We like him for what he has done for our school,
For that he is with us no
matter what's on;
His manners are faultless;
he's pleasant to all;
Here's to the prince of good

Senior Contest

Now for our other distinguished Seniors. No matter how hard we try to make the class well known to the whole school we always feel that some of the underclassmen cannot appreciate all of our particular bright and shining stars of the fourth-year diadem because they don't really know us as they should. Of course there can be no doubt that they know our most popular couple, Alta Fay and Jack John, as well as the two handsomest, Edna Hoffman and Fred Holmberg. However, we can't be quite so sure of some of the others.

It is most fitting and proper that Nila Otto and President "Bill" McCune should be announced as the two who will be the most successful in 1950. They are both hard workers and have done much for the class and are popular with the rest of us less talented mortals. We are wishing them "loads" of success and luck.

We have two lucky members who always make us wonder "how the other fellow gets away with it." We rather wish that Ted Foley and Jean Travis would give us a hint on this bluffing business when we've had one period in which to study three subjects on "Gym Day."

Lester Pagel and Wanda Lear are our class grinds, although their friends say that they are not nearly as serious-minded as one might expect.

It is hard to tell what we would do without our cut-ups, Jean Travis and Lewis Miller, and those two witty minds, Helen Lawrence and Norman Wells. You can never find Helen without an answer, and Norm makes his wise cracks in a most casual manner.

The class pests were rather hard to choose this year. Not that we're a very "pesky" class, but we are sure that each one voted for his neighbor in the assembly. Out of this chaos, Pearl Baird came out ahead for the girls and John LeRoy among the boys. John, you must get down to work, for how can we study with someone around to entertain us as you do?

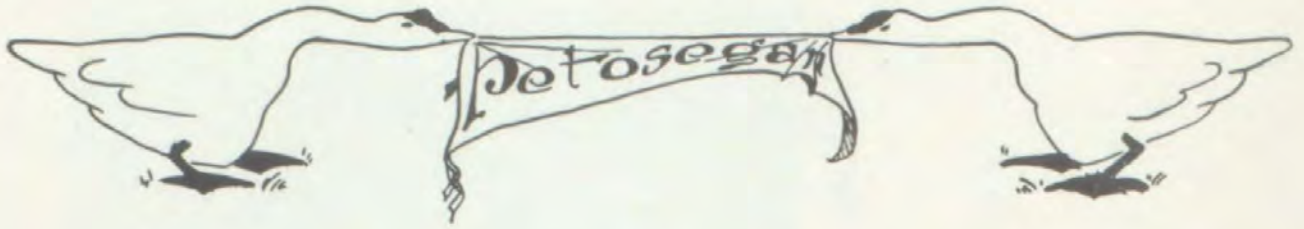

Edna Hoffman has proved to us the old saying, "Fine feathers make fine birds" by being elected the girls' fashion-plate this year. We all knew that Jack John would be our class Beau Brummell.

The most prominent exponents of Terpsichore are Alta Fay and Don Hart. We certainly would expect them to call "On with the dance," and since these two are so alike in their accomplishments you will not be surprised to learn that they were chosen as our best matched couple.

We are very proud to have two such athletes in our class as Rolland North and Margaret McConnell. "Rolly" is well known in school athletic circles, and if there's a sport in which "Spec" doesn't excel it's because she's never tried it.

Of course, we all want to do our bit for P. H. S. and the Senior class, but it seemed to us that Edward Foley and Lillian Feather just about lead the rest. Ted was on the staff of the Student Council paper last year and was mentioned as one of the real boosters of the school.

As a bit of relief from such serious and quite thought-provoking questions as the former we asked, for the last thing, who would make the oddest looking couple. Most of us decided upon DeLila Chamberlain and Carl Hyatt.

Class Auction

"Going!—Going!—Last call—sold to Blake Cooper for a mere fee this title of Class Bluffer. Make your settlements with Ted Foley." Thus rang out the voice of the auctioneer; held on the 15th day of June by the Senior class of 1927. Things were going and going fast and everyone was there for his share.

"Who will give me first bid for DeLila's title of tallest in the class?"

"Five dollars," said Kenneth Rehkopf.

"Ten dollars," spoke up Lawrence Hinds.

"Isn't someone going to give me more than ten? This is a very valuable title; just think of all the advantages. Someone should bid more."

"Fifteen dollars," piped up the little voice of Red Parks.

"Twenty dollars," came from Kenneth.

"Twenty-five dollars," came Red's voice again.

"Twenty-five offered—any higher bid? Come on bid-in now. Going—going—sold to Red Parks."

Rapid sales followed. Helen Lawrence's boyish bob sold at a fair price to Isabel Steen. After some minutes of indecision Mildred Crow received the title of Modest from Marcia Winsor. After some keen bidding George Herrick became the proud possessor of the right to act as understudy for Norm Wells, to Ruth Tripp, while Norm is away.

"Now, ladies and gentlemen," sang the auctioneer. "To pep the sales up a little I have a big offer to make. How much will you give me for Fred Holmberg's winning smile?"

"Fifteen dollars," cried Dick Rigg.

"Twenty dollars," from Don Wells.

"Twenty dollars. Is this all I'm offered for this? Ladies and gentlemen, think of the great value of this smile. Look back over the past years and see all the victories and teachers' favors Fred has won. Is $20 the highest bid?"

"Twenty-five dollars," from Bill Pierson.

"Thirty-five dollars," said Dick, raising upon his chair. "I may need this before I get through my Senior classes."

"Forty dollars," drawled old Bill again.

With a sigh of regret and a long last look at his pocket-book Dick settled back in his seat and Bill started practicing with his new possession.

Lewis Miller's ability to ask dumb questions went below value to Les Niles.

When Alta Fay's ability to giggle was put on the stand quite a few Juniors and some Sophomores edged forward on their chairs. Keen bidding followed, for who wouldn't pay a good price for this. The two runners up were Connie Curley and Ted Pagel. After some deliberation Ted decided to let Connie have it.

"Here's just a bit of antique," sang out the auctioneer, as he called for a bid on "Naomi Trueman's modest but winning smiles and actions." Emily Barrett considered this a good investment.

John LeRoy's title of second only to Sid Chaplin sold at a high price to Hugh Burnett.

Jean Travis' complete book on economical ways of chewing gum and five packages of Teaberry gum was a bargain made by Herbert McCollum.

"Now here's a book, a little worn from handling so much, but that should be of great use to many underclassmen. "Twenty ways to reduce." Who will give me first bid? Miss Feather ought to receive a good price for this."

"Ten dollars," sung out Ruth Reberg.

"Fifteen dollars," said Martin Guleserian.

"Twenty dollars," came from Eleanor DuChaine.

"Twenty-one dollars ninety-eight cents," this from Mary Coleman.

"Twenty-five dollars," boomed Martin again.

"Sold!" yelled the auctioneer.

"Now folks, I would like to have your attention for just a few minutes, please. Here is one little treat that not everyone has but that should be of great use to many. Helen Niles offers to sell her blushes—what am I bid for them?"

"Two dollars," said Thelma Stokes.

"Five dollars," shouted Fred Curtis. "Can't never tell when I might need them."

"Someone must bid more than $5," said the auctioneer. "This is outrageous."

"Sure—I bid $15," shouted Eleanor Teachout.

"If no higher—but sold to Eleanor," said the auctioneer.

Other sales followed such as—Raymond Foley's studied looks to Thomas McCabe, Wanda Lear's lordly manners to Mary Gilbert, and Margaret McConnell's ability to whisper to Raymond March.

"Now, just one moment. Here is something that will interest the girls. Rolland North offers to sell the secret of his permanent wave. Who will bid first?"

"Five dollars," said Margaret Bain.

"Fifteen dollars," cried Dorothy DuChaine, standing up. "Now, now, don't get too excited, girls," called the auctioneer.

"Twenty dollars," called Anne Moore.

"Thirty dollars," shouted Margaret again.

"Thirty-five dollars," called Dorothy again.

"Anyone else going to bid? If not, sold to Dorothy DuChaine."

Soon Charles Moore had secured Maxine Zimmerman's indomitable will for a small price. Likewise, Eleanor DuChaine secured Don't Hart's ability to teach (especially English VIII).

"Now—now look here. If this isn't a bargain I don't know what is—Leora Riley has decided to sell that school girl complexion. Who would like it?"

"I would," shouted Bob Lovelace, "but I only got two bits. Can I have it for that? Now down to the A. & P. store we sell two cans of beans for——"

"Awe, give someone else a chance," said Wilford Shanley. "I bid $2."

"Five dollars," said Helen Karamol.

"Ten dollars," called Barbara Saller, in a small voice.

"That's better—sold for $10."

Jim Atkins sold his senseless gab to Doyle Austin for a good price. While George Gemmil received a pretty fair price from Henry Holmberg for his position at Skinney's where he secured all his gum to treat the girls.

"Just one minute yet, then we have a big surprise for you, but first Jack John has offered to sell his many different dates. Come on, someone bid a good price for this."

"Five dollars," said Curley Locke.

"No you don't," said Red Parks. "I want them myself—$10."

"Twenty dollars," said Dick Densmore.

"Twenty-five dollars," Denny O'Donnell cried.

"Thirty dollars," said Dick again.

After a few minutes' silence—"Sold," yelled the auctioneer, and Dick went around singing "Ho—ho—ha—ha—me—too."

"Girls, here's a bargain for you also. Edna Hoffman has offered to sell her right to so many boy friends. Who is first?"

"Ten dollars," said Lila Hannibal.

"Fifteen dollars," came from Dorothy Hinckley.

"Twenty-five dollars," said Margaret Bain.

"Sold to Miss Bain. Good luck to you."

"Now, people, for the remainder of the sale we have a number of grab boxes here that sell anywhere from $.98 to $4.98. There are not many, so step right up if you want one. Each box contains a prize in itself. Something you will honor and prize for the rest of your school years. Come on, step right up." Gertrude Fochtman was the first hesitating one who stepped forward and laid $1.98 on the stand.

"All right, take your pick," said the auctioneer.

Gertrude selected a big one so she would be sure and get her money's worth and then hurried off to a corner to open it. On opening it she found she had bought Otis Love's wild ways. This started the sales and soon all the boxes were gone. Over in one corner we find Newell Saigeon opening a box and finding Bill McCune's statelessness his possession. Frederick Curtis had secured Carty Thomas' lankiness. Bob Lovelace had finally secured something—Alfred Dudek's absorbent mind, and we find Carleton Saunders with his prize—Rhea Gill's pug nose.

In another corner we find that Mark Milford has bought the right to Jake Conklin's girls at Harbor. Susan McDonald had secured Hortense Conroy's silence. Wilford Shanley found himself in the possession of Don Kondziela's Ford.

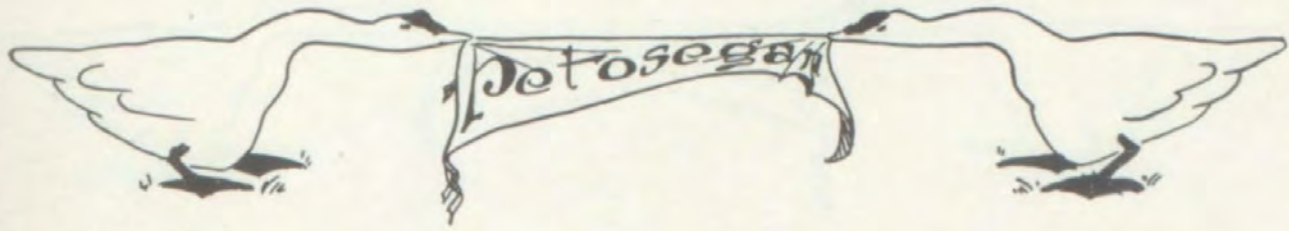

Mildred Lyons had found in her box Sylvia Botsford's ability to type, while Cecil McKeachie had Kenneth North's reporting ability. Elizabeth Upton had secured Mildred Dashner's ability to play the piano for gym classes, and Madelyn Woodruff had found in her box Pearl Baird's ability to secure failing slips.

Hazel Wilson received Helen Racignol's ability to laugh. Dorothy Van Every found in her box Marion Jackmowicz' good-will of the teachers. Lyle Henry secured Chuck Gilman's ability to bother others. Robert Miller became possessor of Victor Knowlton's ability to make speeches. Kenneth Rehkopf got Lyle Faunce's singing ability, and Ralph Conklin secured Raymond Lake's musical ability.

Regina Fettig secured Evelyn Zink's long hair, while Nina Lawrence received Mildred Eppler's ambition and energy. Jean Monteith got Marian Richardson's pretty eyes, and we find Malcolm Taylor receiving Chris Boland's title of best prize fighter we have in P. H. S. Ada Nessner secured Walter McMaster's clumsiness, and Jane Case got Raymond Lewis' cheery smiles.

There was quite a good deal of excitement in one corner of the room. Everyone was wondering what could have happened in this corner. Finally the crowd parted and Miss Wheelock walked out from the center and left the room. She hadn't intended to let anyone know she bought a box or what she had received, but "murder will out," as the old saying goes, and so it had, for it was soon known among all the students that Miss Wheelock had secured Lester Pagel's bashfulness.

Declamatory and Oratory

DeLila Chamberlain

Jean Monteith

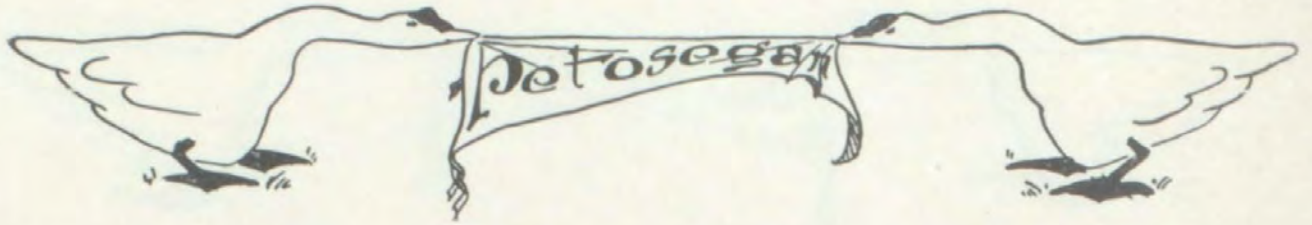

Petoskey High School can be justly proud of the honors brought in oration and declamation this year.

At the school contest Jean Monteith ranked first in "A Vision of War and a Vision of the Future," by Ingersoll. DeLila Chamberlain took first place in oration, speaking on "The Youth of Today."

At the district contest, held at Harbor Springs, April 6, our two contestants again took first place. DeLila had the unanimous decision of the judges in thought and composition as well as delivery. Jean won unanimously also, judged only in delivery.

The girls represented us at the district meet at Fremont on April 29. Here Jean Monteith once again took first place. DeLila and the Cadillac orator tied in placing of the judges but on counting up the percentages the Cadillac girl received first place and DeLila second.

The whole school joins in congratulating Jean and DeLila on their splendid success and we all know that a great deal of credit should be given to the fine coaching of Mr. Rupert Cortwright.

Debate Team

The question for debate this year was "Resolved, that the United States Government Should Own the Coal Mines."

The affirmative team was made up of Alta Fay, Newell Saigeon and Raymond Foley. Our first debate was with Traverse City, November 19, which resulted in a defeat—2 to 1. The second meeting was with Charlevoix, also ending in a 2-to-1 defeat.

The negative team consisted of Robert Miller, Charles Moore and Stuart McIntyre. Mackinaw came here in January and we defeated them 3 to 0. At Cadillac in February we met defeat—3 to 0.

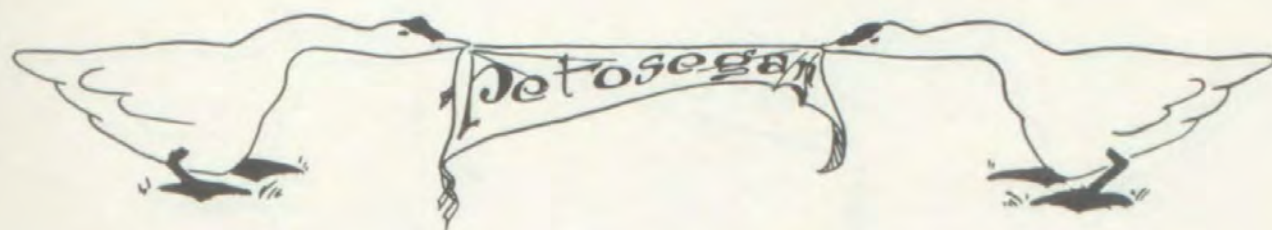

We had only one debater back from last year and we feel sure that with the splendid coaching of Mr. Rupert Cortwright we will be able to turn out two splendid teams next year.

Some Noted Alumni

Miss Dorinda Bowman, who graduated from Petoskey High School in 1898, became a missionary among the Armenian refugees in Hadjin, Turkey. Six weeks after her arrival the town was raided by the Turks and the people driven into the mountains, from which they were rescued after a siege of several weeks. Miss Bowman is now secretary of the Mission Board in Beirut, Lebanon. This board distributes supplies, maintains schools and churches, and conducts evangelistic meetings among the 30,000 Armenians in the refugee camps.

Professor Earnest Ohle graduated from Petoskey High School in 1893. He attended Albion College, Baldwin University and Cass School of Applied Science, where he graduated and where he became an instructor of engineering. He is now Professor of Mechanical Engineering in Washington University in St. Louis.

Dr. Dennis Smith, after graduating from Petoskey High School in 1905, obtained his M. D. degree in the University of Michigan Medical College, and later studied in Vienna. He is now at the head of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Department of the Methodist Hospital in Peking, China. He also teaches in a nurses' school and maintains a clinic where he treats from 90 to 100 patients a day.

Isabel Steen

School Contest

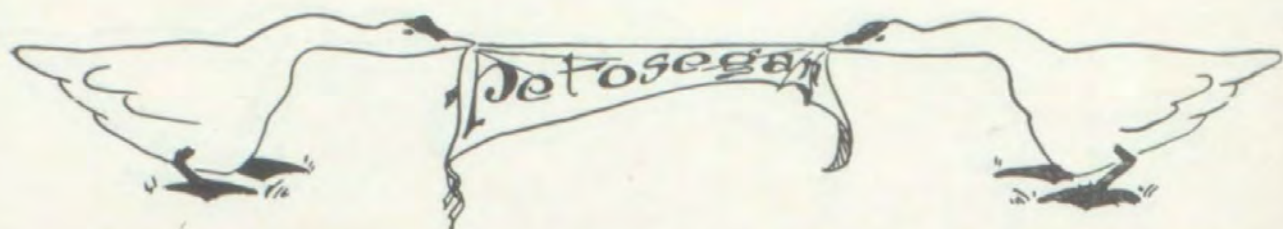

This year we inaugurated something entirely new, a popularity contest for the whole school. Any girl in high school was eligible to enter and votes cost a penny.

The contest began April 15th and ended May 6th. The first week it was open to all, and we then realized how many popular girls we had for there were thirty-one entries. The ten highest at the end of the first seven days were rivals for the next week. From this ten these four girls, Alta Fay, Isabel Steen, Margaret Bain and Eleanor DuChaine, raced for the coveted honor. Competition ran hot and the boys particularly showed their keen interest by buying many votes.

There was much speculation as to who would be the winners, but we are sure that all were pleased to have Isabel Steen take first place. She is truly a popular girl both with the students and the faculty.

A week after the close of the contest, a dance was held in the gymnasium, at which time the winner was announced and presented with a handsome silver cup appropriately inscribed with her name. We wish to take this opportunity to congratulate the winner on her victory and on being the first girl to receive the unusual honor of being chosen the most popular girl in Petoskey High School.

The idea of a school contest carried out so well that we hope it will become a yearly affair, because it stimulates more interest in the Annual for the underclassmen. It also helped a great deal in a financial way.

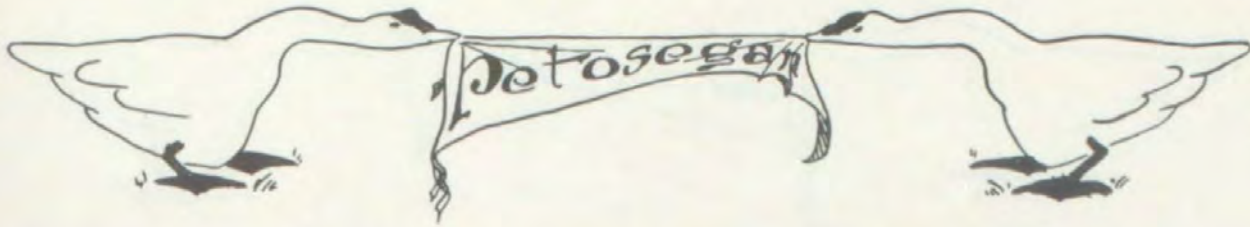

CAST OF THE SENIOR PLAY

“So This Is London”

Hiram Draper.....	John LeRoy
Hiram Draper, Jr.....	Jack John
Mrs. Draper.....	Nila Otto
Lord Percy Beauchamp.....	William McCune
Lady Beauchamp.....	DeLila Chamberlain
Elinor Beauchamp.....	Alta Fay
Lady Ducksworth.....	Wanda Lear
Mr. Honeycutt.....	Kenneth North
Flunky	Howard Parks
Thomas	Fred Holmberg
Jennings	Richard Densmore

Hiram Draper, a wealthy shoe manufacturer, has come to London to buy a factory, bringing his wife and son. On the ocean voyage Junior meets, falls in love with and proposes to a charming English girl, Elinor Beauchamp, daughter of Sir Percy and Lady Beauchamp. After their arrival in London, Elinor confesses that her parents have intense dislike for Americans only to be told that Junior's parents are just as set against the British. To bring about a happy culmination to their international romance, Lady Ducksworth offers to help the two young people by bringing about a meeting between the two families. In spite of opposition and unforeseen complications she accomplishes her object and all become good friends and live happy ever after.

This year we are sure that our Senior play was certainly the “best ever.” We are very justly proud of the dramatic talent in our class and it was never so well displayed as in “So This Is London,” by Arthur Goodrich.

The play given this year for the benefit of the Junior class was said by all who attended it to be the best ever given in Petoskey High School. Most certainly its success was due to the very able direction of Mrs. Stech. The time and care spent by her in the production of our school plays deserves the esteem and gratitude of the whole student body.

"The Whole Town's Talking," by John Emerson and Anita Loos, is the story.

Ethel Simmons, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Simmons, has just returned from Chicago accompanied by a young gentleman, Roger Shields. Her parents have considered the possibility of her getting married and Mr. Simmons has decided upon his partner, Chester Binney. However, Mrs. Simmons dislikes "Chet" and approves more of the young Chicago gentleman. In order to win Ethel's interest in Binney, Simmons and his partner invent a love affair with a well-known movie star, Letty Lythe. The plan succeeds and soon the whole town's talking. Ethel accepts Binney's suit and then it is announced that Letty Lythe is coming "in person" to the town. Complications arise, Binney is driven to the depths of despair and Simmons piles up lie on lie. Finally affairs straighten out. Shields is driven from the field and Binney remains victorious.

Society

The 1926 J-Hop was given the night of June 4 at the Ramona Park Hotel by the class of '27. The ferry was chartered as a means of transportation, officially chaperoned, but most of those who attended found other methods of travel. The tables were prettily decorated with ferns and pink tulips and the two large dining rooms were nearly filled and so opened that both groups could plainly hear the very interesting program. Rolland North, toastmaster, gave the farewell to the Seniors, to which Clyde Comstock responded for the graduating class. Mr. Bates and Mr. Spitler gave informal speeches and the boys' quartette rendered several very pleasing numbers. After all the eating and laughing and talking, we were quite ready to enjoy Fuller's splendid orchestra which fairly made our toes tingle. The numbers of the class gave fine support to raise the money for the Hop, and all may be justly proud of one of the very best social affairs ever given by the Petoskey High School.

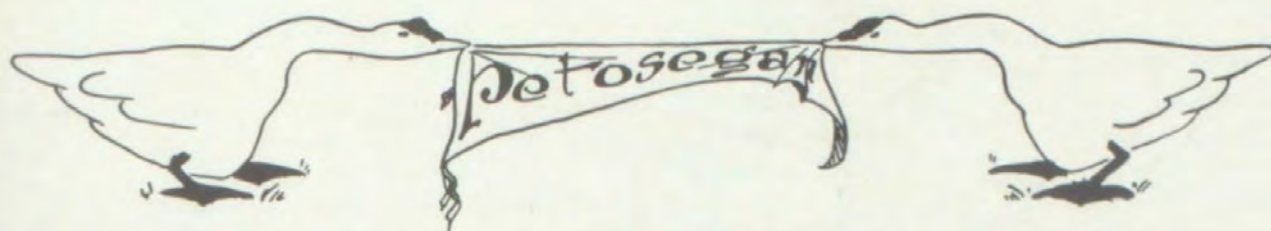

STUDENT COUNCIL PARTIES

Our Student Council decided again this year to give school parties in the gym for students and their friends only. These functions were always welcomed and well attended by all and the Council deserves much praise for the time and care spent in making them such a success.

The first Student Council party of the year was held the night of the Harbor-Petoskey football game at Harbor. The gym was beautifully decorated in the fall colors and leaves helped to carry out this idea. The orchestra booth was surrounded by leaf-trimmed trellises.

Our next celebration was observed during the Christmas holidays. The gymnasium was most fittingly decorated with the season's colors. Christmas trees and a large fireplace helped to carry out this suggestion. The Alumni were home for vacation and were guests at this party. Prizes were given to the best dancers, Mildred Craw and Ted Foley, and also one to Eleanor DuChaine, the smartest looking girl. Fred Reusch and Alta Fay danced the tango and Josephine Travis also presented a charming number. Punch and wafers were served during the evening. This was one of the most successful parties of the year.

The most unique of the Student Council parties of the season was held at the close of our mid-year exams. This was a carnival dance with those present coming in costume, and very original, too. All types of persons were seen from preachers to hoboes; old-fashioned ladies, cowgirls, jockeys, clowns, sheiks, dancers and very young girls. A few of the boys and girls changed sexes for the evening, showing that boys can become charming girls, and girls perfectly stunning boys. Each class was represented in some unusual way. The Freshmen had Mrs. Stech telling fortunes for a small fee, while in an opposite corner the Sophomores kept a candy booth. The Juniors were proud owners of a "fish pond" in which many unclaimed articles left at Mr. Bates' office were the fish. The Seniors displayed marked originality in their corner, having photography and even bathing beauties. As an interlude during the evening Lorraine Newman presented a charming solo dance in costume. Later Miss Billings and Mr. Krueger gave a splendid interpretation of a Spanish dance, also appropriately costumed. We are sure that this was a very good way to end the first semester.

Our most recent party was held April 16. The gym was decorated with a variety of gay colors. For a feature number Esther Christopher presented a very pretty "ballet dance." Kneil Maston, playing in Golden's Orchestra, added much to the entertainment by playing solos on the zylophone. This was one of the most enjoyable parties of the year.

We must not forget the class parties this year as well, though, we are sorry to say, they were not open to all the students.

The Annual Sophomore party was held February 12. The gym was decorated in red and white, the class colors. In the early part of the evening peppy games were played. The rest of the time was spent in dancing to the music furnished by Golden's Orchestra. This was a closed party but in various ways a few of us Seniors were able to attend their delightful party.

The Freshmen celebrated their first year in high school at a party held on the evening of March 4 in the gym. Decorations were worked out attractively in blue and gold. The grand march was led by Mr. and Mrs. Jacobs and Mr. and Mrs. Spitler. For a short time games formed the chief part of amusement and then the Oriole Orchestra furnished music for dancing. We are sorry to say that closed parties have been in vogue this year, but maybe next year the underclassmen will feel more generous and will learn what fun an open party is.

IDLE THOUGHTS OF AN IDLE FELLOW

It used to be a courtesy to let a girl in the car first—now it's a treat.
Eat, drink and be merry for tomorrow there may be a law against it.
In the bed days, there was nothing that corresponded exactly to the saxophone, unless it was the ear ache.

OUCH!

Mrs. Jacobs—"There's a lot of electricity in my hair."
Hubby—"No wonder. It's connected up with a dry cell."

HALESTOSIS, BAD CASE

I. Steen—"Just to think, every time I breathe somebody dies."
K. North—"Better try Listerine."

NOT CHEMICALLY MINDED

Miss Bixby—"What can you tell me about nitrates?"
DeLila Chamberlain—"Well—er—they're a lot cheaper than day rates."

THIS SEASON'S FORD JOKE

Mule—"What are you?"
Ford—"I am an automobile."
Mule—"Gwan! If you're an automobile, I am a horse."

A RESILIENT SPRING

Diner—"Waiter, what kind of meat is this?"
Waiter—"Spring lamb, sir."
Diner—"I thought so. I've been chewing on one of the springs for an hour."

O, MIGOSH!

"When was the first radio made?"
"When the Creator took Adam's rib and made a loud speaker."

Ted Foley says—Time has changed; when a man used to reach back under his coat tail it was a threat, now it's a promise.

E. Hankey—"What did the goal do?"

Jack John—"You've missed it before—that's why it's gone."

Freddie—"I'm going to steal a kiss."

Altie—"Let the crime wave begin."

HUNG

"Did you hear the step-ladder fall, Mom?"

Mrs.—"Yes. I hope father didn't fall."

"He hasn't yet. He's hanging to the picture molding."

COULD AFFORD IT

"Why did you tip that boy so handsomely when he gave you your coat?"

"Look at the coat he gave me."

Motorist—"Hey, you ought to look out!"

Victim—"Wassa matter, you gonna back up?"

Everyone is of some use—even if nothing more than serving as a horrid example.

A woman may make a fool of a man whenever he wants her to.

One thing you can still get for a nickel—the wrong number.

IT IS SAID THAT—

A few minutes after the alarm was given in a recent hotel fire, Red Parks, who prides himself on his coolness, joined a group of other guests and chided them for their excitement.

"There was nothing to be excited about," said he, "when the alarm rang I got out of bed, lighted a cigarette, brushed my hair and took my time about dressing. I didn't like the knot in my tie so I tied it over again—that's how cool I was."

"Fine," remarked one of the guests.

"But why didn't you put your trousers on?"

"A wife is a person who sees an empty parking space after you pass it."

Carl Hyatt—"I have two wooden legs. Is it possible for me to get life insurance?"

Dick Rigg—"You don't want life insurance, you want fire insurance."

M. Bain—"He says he thinks I'm the nicest girl in town. Shall I ask him to call?"

Mother—"No, dear; let him keep on thinking so."

"Any fellow who says that gentlemen prefer blondes either never has met a red-headed girl—or he ain't no gentleman."

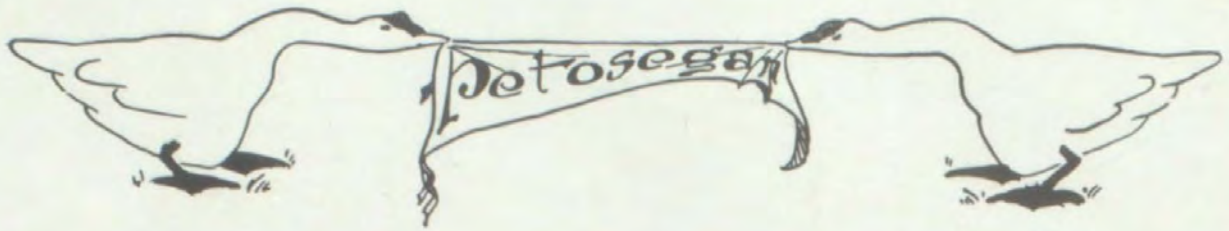

PICKED TEAMS

(Alta Fay at football game.)

Alta—"I heard some one yell foul—where are the feathers?"

Soup—"Oh, this game is between two picked teams."

Every big achievement was once a dream.

THREE A. M.

Pat Sullivan—"What are you doing here at this hour?"

Jess Herrick—"I forgot my key and I'm waiting for George to come home and let me in."

"Well, of all things," said Charles Gilman, as he opened Lillian Feather's traveling bag by mistake.

The place for the knocker of this Annual is outside the door.

NOTHIN' DOIN'

Bill Copeland had exhausted his financial resources in a disastrous crap game, and was forced to return to the city to work. When he inquired about the fare, however, he found it was more than he could afford so he started to walk along the tracks to Petoskey and home. He had not gone far when he heard the whistle of a locomotive behind him. Turning around, he said with an air of determination, "No use your whistling after me, brother; you done named your price, and I said 'No.'"

Bill Pierson—"I'm almost sure I've run across your face at some time or other."

Esther Christopher—"No, sir; it's always been that way."

Nila Otto—"How is it that you who are so lucky at cards, always lose at horse racing?"

Rollie North—"Because I can't shuffle the horses."

Hardware Merchant—"I slept like a log last night."

His Wife—"Yes, a log with a saw going through it."

HE KNEW TWO REASONS

Miss Brainerd—"Now, G. Herrick, how many seasons are there?"

George—"Do you mean in the United States?"

Miss B.—"Yes."

George—"Two."

Miss B.—"Only two? Name them."

George—"Football and basketball."

UNEVENLY DIVIDED

Connie Curly—"All Mary does in the chorus is hip, hip, hooray, and she gets fifty a week."

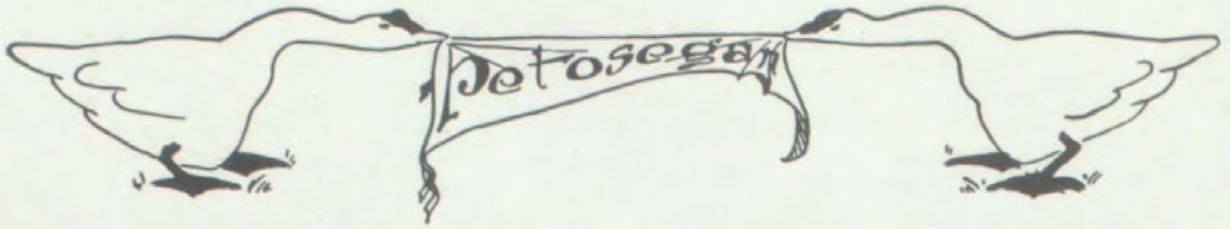

Mr. Hirschy—"Sure, she gets ten for her 'hoorays' and forty for her 'hips.'"

Thelma Stokes—"Mother, what did you do when a boy kissed you?"

Mother—"Never mind."

Thelma—"I did the same thing myself."

COULDN'T FOOL DAD

Father—"Who came to see you last night?"

Daughter—"Only my girl friend from the office."

Father—"Well, you might tell her she left her pipe on the piano."

WRONG HOUSE

"Have you a Charles Dickens in your home?" asked the polite book agent.

"No!" she snapped.

"A Robert Louis Stevenson?"

"No!"

"Or a Gene Field?"

"No, we ain't, and what's more we don't run a boarding house here, either. If you're looking for them fellows, you might try the house across the street."

IT'S A SIN TO LIE

James Salisbury had just been engaged to assist the milkman.

"Now," said his master to him on the first morning, "do you see what I'm doing?"

"Yes, sir," replied Jim. "You're pouring water in the milk."

"No, I'm not, Jim," was the answer. "I'm pouring milk into the water. So if anyone asks you if I put water into the milk, you be sure and tell 'em 'no.' Allus stick to the truth, Jim, and you'll get on in life. Cheatin' is bad enough but lyin's awful."

"That settles it," said Oddie Love when he made the last payment on his Hup-no-more.

Doctor (examining unconscious engineer)—"Did that automobile hit this engine?"

Fireman—"No, the driver slowed up to let the train go by and the engineer fainted."

Teacher (to boy sitting idly in school during writing lesson)—"James, why are you not writing?"

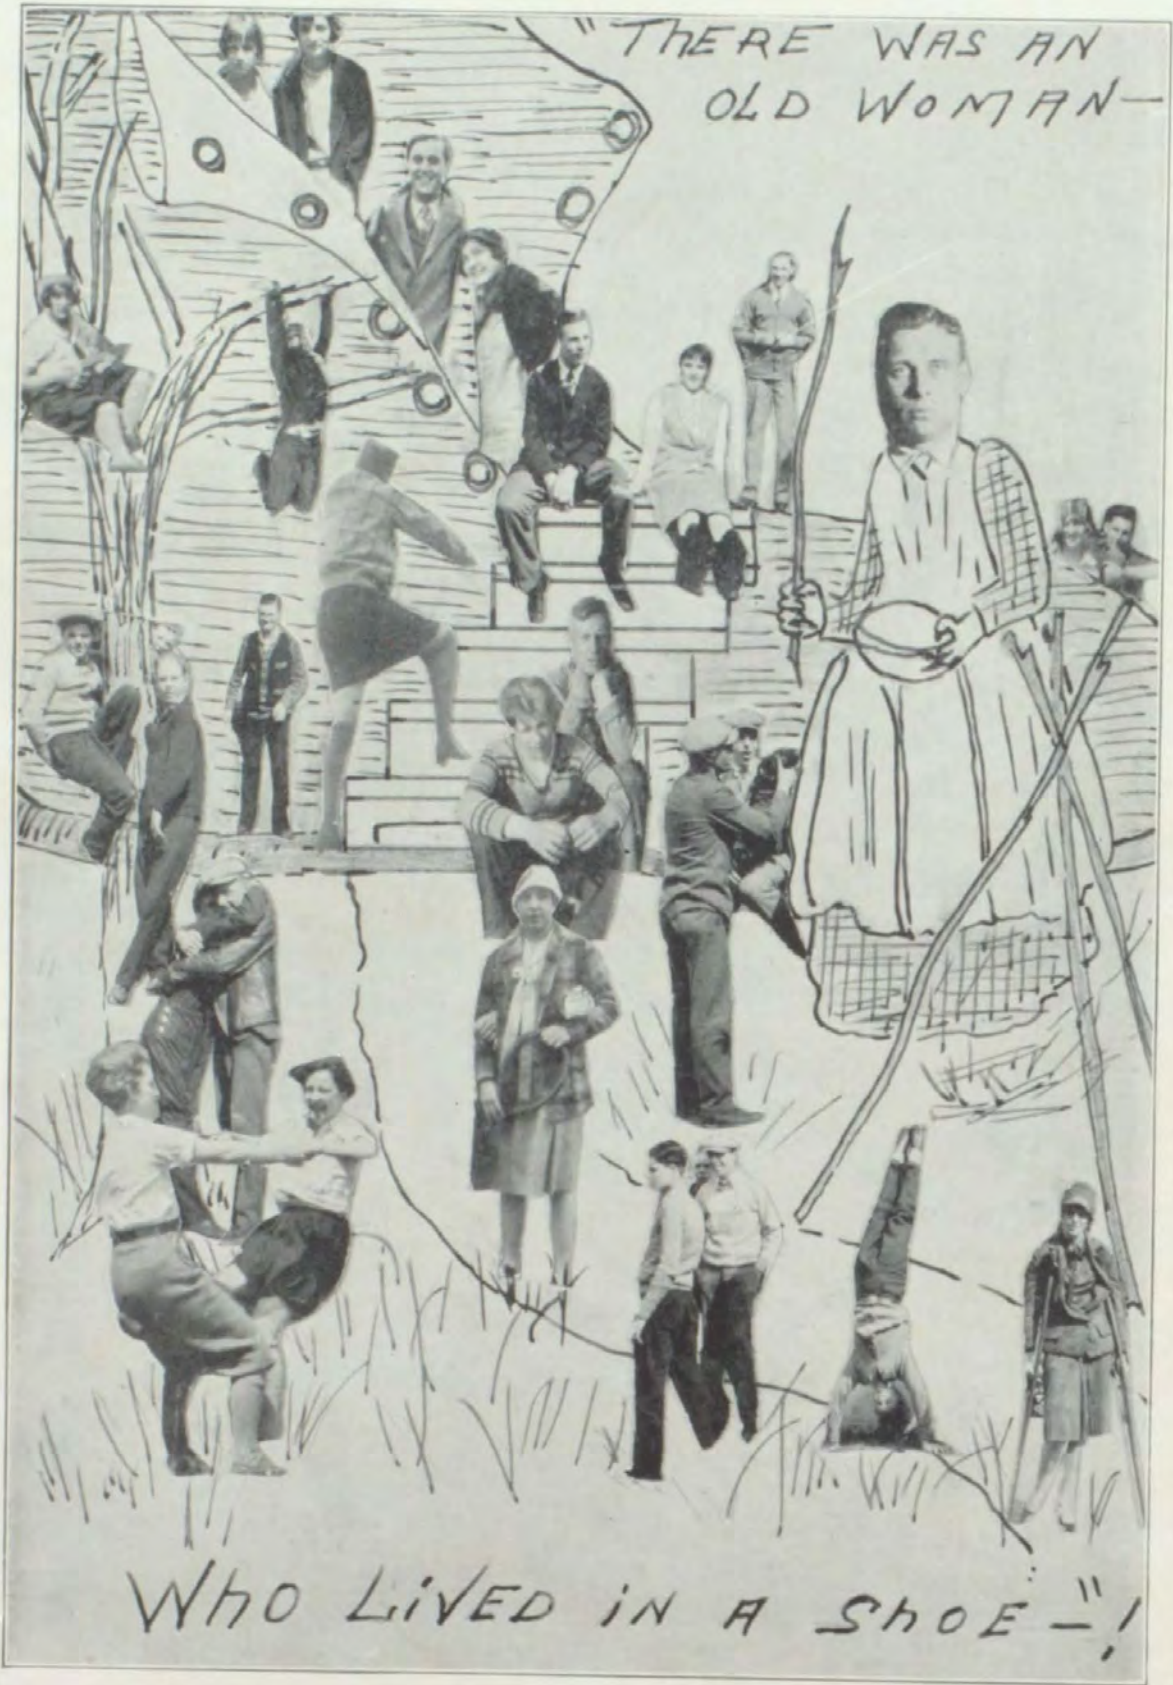

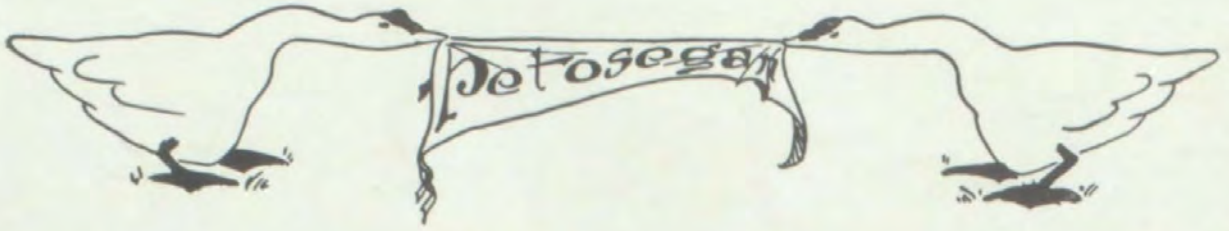

James—"I ain't got no pen."

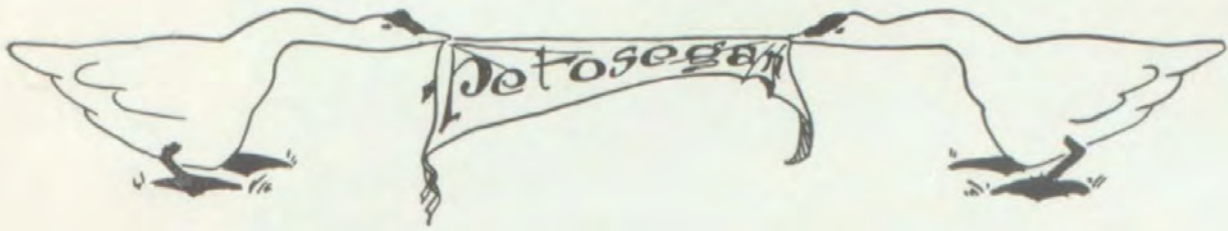

Teacher—"Where's your grammar?"

James A.—"She's dead."

"Can you give me a description of your absconding cashier?" asked the detective.

F. Curtis—"Well, I believe he's about 5 feet 5 inches tall and about $700.00 short."

NOW SHE'S CANNED

"Mamma, are peaches good canned?"

"Yes, my dear."

"Would the new maid be good canned?"

"Of course not. Why ask such foolish questions?"

"Because I heard papa tell her she was a peach."

HARD WORK

Grocer—"Are you trying to steal one of those cakes, boy?"

Little Walter Harris—"No, sir; I'm trying not to."

AFFECTIONATE

"I hear your cook has a rather loving disposition."

"Yes; if she can't get up a flirtation with the milkman, she starts mashing the potatoes."

DEEP DRILLING

"Here's something queer," said the dentist, who had been drilling and drilling into a tooth.

"You said this tooth had never been filled, but I find flakes of gold on the point of my drill."

"I know," moaned the patient, "you've struck my back collar button."

First Shiek—"Au, didja kiss her in the dark?"

Second Shiek—"Au, 'twas easy, she uses radiolite lipstick."

ADVICE TO THE LOVELORN

Written to Editor-in-chief of this Annual Jack John:

Dear Editor—I am in love with a homely girl, but she doesn't care for me, while a pretty girl with lots of money wants to marry me. What shall I do?

Reply: Marry the one you love and send me the name and address of the other one.

HONEST!

Al D.—"What's the most nervous thing next to a girl?"

Walter McMaster—"Me."

ISN'T IT TRUE

Some girls are reserved while others are engaged.

Some men are as pure as snow but men like snow will sometimes drift.

He—"What would you do if I were to kiss you on the forehead?"

She—"I'd call you down."

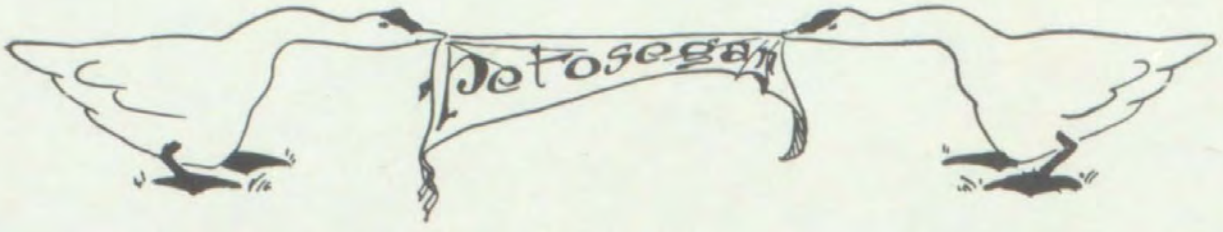

John LeRoy (nervously)—"There's been something trembling on my lips for months."

DeLila C.—"So I see. Why don't you shave it off?"

SURE FIRE

Doctor—"I've practised medicine here for thirty years and never heard a complaint. What does that prove?"
